Disgruntled Pilot Strafes Palaces Of Indonesia Chief

Surprise Air Attacks Wound 19, But Sukarno, Family Uninjured

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A jet fighter strafed two of President Sukarno's palaces and a fishing village today, wounding 19 persons.

Officials blamed a disgruntled Indonesian air force pilot, a second lieutenant whose father was arrested a few weeks ago for illegal possession of arms.

Army authorities captured the pilot, Lt. Daniel Maukar, after he had bailed out over rebel-infested west Java territory, air force sources announced.

President Sukarno's Merdeka (Freedom) Palace in downtown Jakarta was the first target. The jet, identified by Radio Jakarta as a Soviet-made MIG17, dived low and sprayed the palace with machine gun bullets.

FOUR WOUNDED

Three persons within the palace and a painter working outside were wounded, Radio Jakarta announced.

Sukarno and his five children, however, escaped injury. The children were in the palace as the bullets cut several holes in the roof and walls. Sukarno was presiding over a meeting of the Supreme Advisory Council in an adjacent building.

The lieutenant took off from Kemajoran airfield here. After firing on Merdeka Palace he headed his jet 35 miles south of Jakarta to Bogor, where he strafed the Bogor Palace.

STRAFED VILLAGE

Finally, he flew to the fishing village of Tjilintjint, 10 miles northeast of Jakarta, and sprayed bullets there. Fifteen persons were wounded.

Mine Rescue Crews Brave Deadly Fumes

LOGAN, W. Va. — Rescue crews braving deadly fumes in their struggle to reach 18 trapped miners switched today from gas masks to oxygen.

Conflicting statements from the mine officials and crew members, meanwhile, added up to confusion.

A statement from the Island Creek Coal Co. shortly before noon expressed confidence that the fire which trapped the men at 8:30 a.m. yesterday was "contained," although it said there was still "considerable heat and smoke."

'VERY HOPEFUL'

"We are in constant touch with the rescue crews," the statement said, "and we are still very hopeful that they will reach the men soon and find them safe."

The statement conceded that "we have a few obstacles," but said "we believe we can overcome them."

Crawford L. Wilson, state mines director on the scene, said at 1:15 p.m.:

"We have called back the rescue team and are concentrating on fighting the fire. We met certain obstacles." He did not elaborate.

NO FIRE VISIBLE

Wilson said no fire was visible but there was a terrific amount of smoke.

Newsmen asked whether he still held hope of bringing the men out alive. Wilson turned away and didn't answer.

Individual crew members emerging from the ill-fated Holden 22 mine would not be quoted, but indicated they were less hopeful.

Hope of relatives and friends of the trapped miners rose and fell with each new report.

Reports also conflicted as to the nearness of the crew to the area where the trapped men, whether dead or alive, are believed to have taken refuge.

Marin City Dedication Rites Set

Mrs. Vera Schultz, Marin County supervisor, and J. G. Melville, regional director of the U.S. Public Housing Authority, will be principal speakers at dedication of the Marin City public housing development on March 19.

The 2 p.m. ceremony in front of the new administration-maintenance building will mark the completion of the first six residential type buildings.

The remaining 22 residential structures and administration-maintenance building are expected to be finished by the end of the year, said O. E. McNalley, chairman of the Marin County Housing Authority.

SATURN TO SAN RAFAEL

Speaker Has Message From Another World

Story and picture By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Reinhold O. Schmidt, the only man who has flown in a Saturnian space ship to Egypt and the Arctic Circle, flew into San Rafael this morning in a 1958 Buick Super.

Schmidt is in town for a speaking engagement tonight under sponsorship of Understanding Unit No. 31, an organization devoted to the understanding of flying saucers. It is understood the meeting will be at the San Rafael Improvement Club, Fifth avenue and H street, at 8 p.m.

A large, balding man who appears to be in his middle 50s, Schmidt has not only flown in the Saturnian ship, he is also conversant with the people who fly it.

He first met his outer space friends on Nov. 5, 1957 in a Nebraska river bed where he had gone to investigate a "bright flash" in the sky. Looking for what he though might be a blasting crew, Schmidt found himself face to face with "two ladies and two men" standing beside a "big silvery ship."

The ladies, he noted, were dressed in white blouses, dark skirts, medium heel shoes and were "very good looking."

The chance meeting developed into a fast friendship when the visitors, after ascertaining Schmidt was unarmed, invited him in to their ship for an impromptu housewarming.

"They speak our language with what I would say is a German accent," Schmidt said. "They wear business suits, the same as ours, weigh about 200 pounds and have rather dark complexions."

They talk little, he said, since they can read our minds.

"I was about to ask what kind of gas they use in their ship," Schmidt recalls, "when one of the men informed him they use 'free energy.'"

"We build a magnetic field around the ship and fly away in it," the pilot told the earthling. This enveloping field, Schmidt explained, is the reason many persons are unable to see the visitors when they fly in from outer space.

Since the first meeting the Saturnians have returned for Schmidt twice and invited him on trips to the Arctic Circle and Egypt.

In the Arctic, he said, they showed him Soviet missile bases on the ocean floor, from which the Russians plan to at-

COURT SPURNS NEW APPEAL BY CHESSMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Supreme Court today rejected the petition of Caryl Chessman that a Los Angeles judge erred in setting May 2 as his execution date.

It was the ninth death date set for the man convicted of kidnaping, robbery and sex perversion. Chessman has spent almost 12 years on Death Row in San Quentin Prison.

Senate To Vote Tomorrow On Limiting Rights Debate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate agreed formally to vote at 2 p.m. tomorrow on a move to limit debate in the civil rights fight.

The Senate temporarily called a halt to its bitter fight because of the sudden death of Sen. Richard L Neuberger (D-Ore.). Senators of both political parties spoke their tribute to the Oregon Democrat and arranged to recess early this afternoon out of respect to his memory.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas) won agreement to have the Senate meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow, spend five hours discussing the bi-partisan move to limit civil rights debate, and then vote at 2 p.m. It will be the first test of strength to impose cloture in the civil rights battle.

Johnson emphasized the five hours would be equally divided between those favoring and those opposing the limitation of debate. It takes a vote of two-thirds of those present and voting to impose cloture. The move had little chance of succeeding at this time.

Before assenting to the time arrangement, Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) leader of the southerners opposing both the pending rights bill and the cloture motion, drew assurance from Johnson and GOP leader Everett Dirksen (Ill.) that his bloc would have some of the speaking time tomorrow.

Fight Opens On Repeal Of Capital Punishment

Ex-Warden Duffy First To Speak Against It

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Clinton P. Duffy of San Anselmo, white-haired former warden of San Quentin Prison, pleaded today at a Senate committee hearing for repeal of capital punishment in California.

"I do not believe in the death penalty," he said, "because I do not believe it is a quality of justice we should have in this country."

Duffy, born at San Quentin to an employee's family and "around prisons for 61 years," was the first witness to testify on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bill to abolish capital punishment. He is now a member of the California Adult Authority, prison sentencing agency.

Duffy told of cases which he said showed the inequality of justice. He said there were 712 men in prison yards today who committeed murder but got life. Their crimes, he said, were just as bad as those of a great many in condemned row.

MORE HOMICIDES

The former warden noted that in 1930, California executed eight persons. In the years since, he said homicides have more than doubled, yet only six men were put to death in 1958-59.

"I have yet to find anyone executed who was wealthy," he said. It's only prisoners who can't afford competent attorneys, he said, who die in the lethal gas chamber.

Duffy was challenged by Senate judiciary committeemen on his contention that the death penalty is not a deterrent to crime.

DEATH ROW TALKS

The nationally known penologist testified that in 22½ years at San Quentin, he talked with every man on Death Row and asked whether he thought of the death penalty before committing his crime.

"I have yet to hear a man say he thought of it," he said.

Sen. John W. Holmdahl (D-Oakland) interrupted to present a recent report by the robbery detail of the Los Angeles police department. It showed use of toy or unloaded guns in 28 felonies and gave fear of the gas chamber as the reason.

OPPONENT AGREES

Sen. Donald E. Grunsky (R-Watsonville), an opponent of the bill, agreed that many criminals are not deterred by the death penalty. But, he asked:

"If 10 or 100 young children are saved from mutilation . . . if the lives of 10 or 100 law enforcement officers are spar-

N.H. VOTE BOOSTS KENNEDY'S STOCK

Nixon Also Makes Strong Showing In First Test Of Presidential Hopefuls' Strength

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential stock skyrocketed to new highs today as a result of his record-breaking performance in the New Hampshire primary.

With the state's entire 300 precincts reported from yesterday's primary, the Massachusetts senator polled 42,969 votes in the Democratic preferential poll. This more than doubled the total any other Democratic presidential aspirant received in other years. Kennedy's only opponent, Paul Fisher, Chicago manufacturer, got 6,784 votes, and there were 375 write-in votes for Sen Stuart Symington of Missouri.

NIXON TOTAL

Nixon's complete total reached 65,077. The previous high, 56,464, was established in 1956 by President Eisenhower.

Despite Nixon's record vote, Kennedy broke down the traditional 2-1 Republican margin of superiority in the state. The ratio in yesterday's election was about 3-2.

It was not a direct contest between Nixon and Kennedy, who were on separate ballots.

TWO RESULTS

Two significant results of the election were immediately apparent:

1. Nixon's spectacular showing should go a long way toward dispelling the last remnants of any Nixon-can't-win talk. The vice president did not come to New Hampshire to campaign personally. Top GOP leaders in the state carried the burden of his campaign.

2. Kennedy, already considered one of the leading Democratic presidential candidates, if not the front runner, moved closer to the center of the spotlight. His most enthusiastic supporters had not dared go above 38,000 in their forecasts.

Nixon called the Republican turnout "gratifying to me in view of the fact that I had not been able to visit New Hampshire during the campaign."

Oregon's Sen. Neuberger Dies In Coma

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Death by cerebral hemorrhage claimed Sen. Richard L. Neuberger early today. It was an ironic fate for the 47-year-old Oregon Democrat who had just won a fight with cancer.

The senator was stricken at his home yesterday afternoon. He lapsed into a coma and gradually became weaker. Death came at 1:30 a.m.

Neuberger had been home since January, trying to shake off a series of virus infections and an attack of shingles. Last week he filed for re-election to the Senate.

His death cuts the Democratic total to 64 against 35 Republicans but a Democrat must be appointed by Republican Gov. Mark Hatfield to fill out his term.

Haste will be needed by both Republican and Democratic leaders in lining up someone to compete in the May 20 primary. Filings close at 5 p.m. Friday.

Neuberger's health had not been robust for many months.

He became ill in the summer of 1958. That August he underwent an operation for cancer. Five months later he was smiling broadly as he told a news conference he regarded himself as a cured cancer patient.

He added national health to his favorite legislative topics which until then had centered around development of hydroelectric power and conservation of wildlife, timber and other resources.

Chessman Film 'Embarrasses' Prison Chief

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's prison director said today he was the victim of a hoax in the production of a movie on capital punishment featuring Caryl Chessman.

"I'm embarrassed about it," McGee told the Assembly Rules Committee.

McGee said he permitted a filmed interview with Chessman, the condemned convict-author and 11½-year resident of San Quentin Prison's Death Row, believing it was to be used as a television news show.

The film, entitled Justice and Caryl Chessman," blossomed out in theaters throughout the state shortly after Gov. Edmund G. Brown reprieved Chessman Feb. 19 only hours before his scheduled execution. Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks), a committee member, protested the 43-minute film does "an injustice to California."

Census Gets Under Way In Novato

Novato's special census got under way yesterday as 19 enumerators began taking a "head count" of all residents.

J. Herbert Banford, special federal census supervisor, said the census should be completed in about two weeks. Enumerators will make day, evening and weekend calls where necessary.

The supervisor said he had enough applications on hand from which to draw if more enumerators are needed. The 19 hired so far underwent a five-hour training session yesterday. They will wear identifying badges and carry identification papers, Banford said.

Demo Takes Out Assembly Papers

The papers must bef iled with the county clerk by 5 p.m. April 1.

Rep. Clement W. Miller has applied for his nomination papers, but he will have to sign a declaration of candidacy and mail them back from Washington, the county clerk reported.

IKE SAYS OUR RELATIONS WITH LATINS BEST EVER

But, President Admits, Serious Misunderstandings Still Exist

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says relations between the United States and Latin America have reached "an all-time high."

But a growing diplomatic storm with the Fidel Castro government of Cuba provided a sharp exception to the general picture Eisenhower painted in a nationwide television address last night.

Eisenhower made no reference to Cuba as he reported to the American people on his 15,560-mile tour of four South American countries. Despite the excellent relations he reported, he said there are some notable exceptions.

"An even firmer partnership must be our goal," he added.

He stressed repeatedly that "serious misunderstandings" still impede the development of the best possible relationships between this country and its neighbors to the south.

He appealed to American leaders, "newspapers, magazines and all means of communication" to help remove the misunderstandings and "build the knowledge on which cooperative action may flourish."

His speech set forth no new policy or specific proposals for dealing with Latin American problems although he declared this country's intentions to do what it can to help them speed their industrial development.

Diversification of agriculture and industry, Eisenhower said, would help many of the countries which depend for their economic well-being largely on a single product, such as coffee.

Eisenhower listed several misunderstandings which he regards as serious.

He said that many people do not realize that the United States is firmly committed to the defense of the American republics under a 1947 treaty.

"This mutual security system, proved by time," the President said, "should now enable some of the American republics to reduce expenditures for armaments, and thus make funds available for constructive purposes."

Another misunderstanding, he said, is the idea that the United States has only recently accepted the principle of nonintervention in the affairs of other American nations. Actually, he declared, the United States has lived by this principle for more than 25 years.

At the same time Eisenhower spoke in favor of collective action by the Organization of American States if "a tyrannical form of government were imposed from outside or with outside support, by force, threat or subversion."

Thus while reaffirming the policy of non-intervention by the United States alone, he also reaffirmed a policy of collective action in the event of a Communist takeover of any country.

BREACH WIDENS

U.S. Protest Rejected By Cubans As 'Insult'

HAVANA —Cuba last night rejected as "insulting" U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's condemnation of Fidel Castro for his implication that American officials were responsible for last Friday's munitions ship explosion in Havana harbor.

Castro's propaganda apparatus today loudly hailed Foreign Minister Raul Roa's sharply worded statement rejecting Herter's protest. Another triumph for Cuba's "national dignity," said pro-government radio and TV stations.

The propaganda organs used the latest development in the heated U.S.-Cuban word battle as the basis for new appeals for public donations to pay for arms to use against "foreign aggressors."

Roa's statement, made to Charge d'Affaires Daniel M. Braddock, took offense at the tongue lashing Herter gave Cuban Charge d'Affaires Enrique Patterson Monday.

Roa demanded that the U. S. government, "whenever it addresses itself to the representatives of the revolutionary government do so with absolute respect for their official status and without descending to offensive utterances of a personal character."

During his session with Patterson, Herter denounced as "baseless, erroneous and misleading" Castro's implication that U. S. officials were to blame for the explosions aboard the French ship La Coubre which killed more than 50 persons.

Herter charged that the fiery Cuban prime minister displayed an "unfounded and irresponsible attitude."

The Cuban retort said Herter's statements had an "aggressive tone, derogatory to our national dignity."

Roa told Braddock the Cuban government is looking forward to giving "a proper reply" to the formal U. S. note of protest when it arrives.

TRANSISTORS

The need for making smaller packages of electronic equipment, in the missile race with the iron-curtain countries, has been aided considerably by the Hearing Aid Manufactors.

In their race to make practically invisible hearing aids, they have developed many methods of doing things in smaller spaces that have been adopted by the armed forces. For example, transistors, that the telephone companies were using, were far too large for hearing aids. So, they made smaller ones that are now the size of the writing point of a Ball Point Pen. At the same time, all other parts had to be made smaller too. As a result of this competition, a complete hearing aid now weighs less and requires less space than the ear button alone did in 1945.

All this has been done without sacrificing any quality of tone. In fact, hearing losses that were impossible to help at that time can now be corrected, and without buttons and cords. It is now possible to help those who need just a little "boost" to understand groups of people talking or certain feminine or children's voices. When not in use, the aid is simply dropped in a purse or pocket.

Edythe & Paul Messinger, your Maico Representatives in Marin County, will be glad to prove how easy it is to solve your personal hearing problem. Seafood Store, Eatery Given Initial Approval

A wholesale seafood store and restaurant overlooking a yacht basin at Mill and Harbor streets in San Rafael won preliminary architectural approval last night by the San Rafael Planning Commission.

Developers Edward Jacobsen and Richard Clayton of San Rafael showed a sketch of the restaurant, which would be built over the water on pilings. They did not disclose the tenant who will operate the restaurant.

The plannings commissioners also approved the final map for nine residential lots to be located between Fifth and Scenic avenues in the Sun Valley area. The subdivision, known as Scenic Heights, will have eight duplexes and one first-class residence. Developers are John Farrar and Associates. This is the same spot where Farrar's request for a swim and tennis club was previously turned down.

In other action last night, the planning commissioners:

1. Postponed action on the proposed apartment zoning of the East San Rafael area which is now zoned for commercial and light industry.
2. Deferred for further study the precise zoning of the unclassified areas of the Freitas Annex.
3. Granted Harry Heifetz a variance to allow his swimming pool at 28 Twin Oaks avenue to encroach into the front yard setback. Planning Commissioners said the variance would not affect any of the neighbors.
4. Gave Robert Knittel a use permit to operate his San Rafael Cabinet Co. at 31 Mill Street.
5. Approved a service station at the Loch Lomond Marina on San Pedro road on condition there will be no direct access onto San Pedro road.
6. Approved a four-lot subdivision of homes for Edward W. Burgar Inc. at 28 Palm avenue.
7. Approved amendments to the Riviera Marin preliminary plan. Developers propose a large lagoon near San Pedro road instead of the series of small ponds originally planned in the golf course area. Entrance to Riviera Marin was also changed, providing two roads into the subdivision instead of one large entry.

Fire Alarm Report Set In Novato

Novato Fire District officials will hear a report on a fire alarm street box system utilizing telephones at 8 p.m. today at fire headquarters, Chief George J. Cavallero said.

Commissioners Peter J. Ferrarese and Louis J. Saffores will discuss the Phonalarm Corp. system which they inspected in Los Angeles Feb. 26-27. With this type of system a person sending in a fire alarm lifts up a telephone instead of breaking a glass.

Novato is considering a plan for 19 street boxes in the downtown area and at each school.

The city's fire prevention code will be given a second reading and will be ready for adoption tonight, Cavallero said. The code is that recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and is the same as the one adopted by the county and San Rafael.

Quentin Inmate Of Death Row Tries Suicide

A convicted rapist, kidnaper and murderer today tried to had been given a safety razor on Death Row at San Quentin Prison.

Darryl Thomas Kemp, 24, had ben given a safety razor with a locked blade to shave about 9:15 a.m., according to to Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff.

Achuff said Kemp broke the lock and, before the guard could stop him, made three long shallow cuts from his wrist to his elbow.

Thirty stitches were required to close the wounds. He was reported in good condition subsequently in the prison hospital, but will be kept there for psychiatric observation, said Achuff.

Kemp was placed on Death Row Feb. 16 after being sentenced in Los Angeles County. He has an automatic appeal pending; thus no execution date had been set, according to Achuff.

"I think we are getting mixed up in our thinking."

A capacity audience of 300 packed into the theater-type committee room. The first ones arrived at 4:30 a.m. The overflow was seated in a similar room across the hall.

Among the crowd were three of Caryl Chessman's attorneys, actress Phyllis Kirk and grey-robed, barefoot brothers of a religious order known as Fountain of the World—all there to support the ending of capital punishment.

The audience chairman, Sen. Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville), opened the hearing 20 minutes behind schedule with a statement reciting the unsuccessful efforts over the years to repeal of the death penalty.

Proponents of the bill led off the testimony.

The audience was quiet and attentive. Only a few pickets showed up before the Capitol this morning.

tack the United States "without sound and without warning."

In Egypt he was shown a chamber containing documents which had not been opened for 1,960 years. It will be opened again, he was told, sometime between now and 1988.

Each time they take him on a trip, they come to his apartment, he said, and arrange a rendezvous for the takeoff. Besides the trips he has taken with them, Schmidt said, he has met them several times on the street in Denver, Oklahoma City and Hollywood.

"They don't shake hands as we do," Schmidt added. "They told me the vibration was too much for them."

"You were very fortunate to be able to talk to Mr. Schmidt this morning," one of the members of the Understanding Unit told the Independent-Journal. "Usually he arrives in a space ship just before he goes on the platform to speak."

Groups To Chart Recreation Plans

An advisory council of 11 citizens will meet with the San Rafael Recreation and Park Commission tonight to map long-range recreation plans for the city.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the board of directors room at the First National Bank of San Rafael. Kenneth Anderson, recreation and park consultant, will speak.

CLOUDY SKIES TO CONTINUE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Partly cloudy skies were forecast for Northern California through tomorrow, but the Weather Man said the extreme north would get scattered light showers with snow flurries in the mountains.

In the Bay Area the high temperature was expected to drop to 40-50 tonight.

Survey Backs Parking Limit For Novato

Novato retail merchants have indicated they would like a two-hour parking limit on Redwood highway and Grant avenue, the Novato City Council will be told tomorrow night.

The adjourned meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in city hall.

The retail merchants committee of the chamber of commerce, headed by Irving Chapman, took a "tentative" survey to determine merchants preferences. The council had instructed City Clerk Robert O. Bailey to get the merchants' opinions after an ordinance was introduced last week limiting parking to two hours on the west side of Highway 101 between Grant and Vallejo avenues.

Bailey will report on obtaining an advance planning grant from federal funds dispensed by the state Department of Finance. The first step, he has been informed, will be to hire a planning consultant for the city.

Also on the agenda are a social security contract for city employees and approval of the $1,550 payment for the special census now under way.

Herter Says Allies Won't Force Issue On Berlin Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said today the allied powers have decided against testing for the time being their right to fly planes to Berlin above 10,000-foot altitude ceiling insisted on by the Russians.

But Herter said the United States, Britain and France still claim the right to do so in the future.

He told a news conference the air corridor matter was reviewed by President Eisenhower when he returned from Latin America this week. He said the President and administration officials feel there is no real operational need for high level flights, which would probably force a showdown with the Reds.

Novato Carpenter Hurt In Collision

Two cars turning at a Novato intersection collided yesterday at 5:15 p.m., and one driver went to the hospital with cuts and bruises.

Aage M. Ipsen, 55, carpenter, of 7530 Redwood highway, Novato, was sent home after being treated for a cut lip and bruised head suffered when his 1960 model car collided with an automobile driven by Philip H. Williams, 56, of Santa Rosa at Olive avenue and Highway 101.

Ipsen, moving west on Olive began to turn into a northbound lane of Highway 101 when, momentarily blinded by the sun, he smacked into Williams' car, turning east onto Olive, the highway patrol reported.

Rites Slated For Marinite's Nephew

Funeral services for George E. Wentworth, nephew of Mrs. John B. Sundin of San Rafael, will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at the Santos and Robertson Funeral Parlor in San Leandro.

Services will be conducted under auspices of Free and Accepted Masons Lodge 568 of Oakland. Wentworth was marshal of the lodge.

OBITUARIES

San Rafael Woman Dies

Funeral arrangements are pending for Sophia Baccala, 73, a resident of San Rafael for 40 years who died in a local hospital today after a long illness.

Mrs. Baccala, who was born in Petaluma, taught in Marin County schools for 20 years, retiring in 1949 from the old Lucas Valley School. She resided at 527 Mission avenue.

She is survived by a son, William Maccala of San Rafael; a daughter, Fern Barthen of Oakland, and two brothers, William Schuler of Petaluma and Carl Schuler of San Francisco.

Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Funeral Set For Marinite's Father

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Rev. Matti Eeli Merijarvi, 79, father of Mrs. Stanley Moyer of 52 Sycamore avenue, Mill Valley.

He died Sunday at a San Francisco Hospital after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage at his Colma home. He had been pastor of the Gethsemane Lutheran Church in San Francisco 24 years and, in 1936, directed the construction of his congregation's new church.

The Finnish-born pastor was president of the California Conference of the Lutheran Church, Suomi Synod, for 20 years.

Services will be at 11 a.m. at the Anderson Funeral Home, 1367 Valencia street, San Francisco. Interment will be in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

25-Year Kentfield Resident Dies

He is survived by his wife, Stella A. Soderstrom, at 19 Manor road, Kentfield; a son, Army Pvt. S. David Soderstrom, stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and three brothers, Henry of St. Paul, Minn.; Leonard of Tacoma, Wash., and Wendell of Oakley, Contra Costa County.

He was a native of Michigan. He was a carpenter, a veteran of World War I and a member of the Larkspur Calvary Baptist Church.

Private funeral services will be held at 9:45 a.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Interment will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Memorial contributions may be made to missions through Calvary Baptist Church of Larkspur.

SIX-PASSENGER CAR OR STATION SEDAN ...CORVAIR IS BOTH!

A wonderfully useful folding seat makes every Corvair two cars in one. Just one quick flip and you increase the luggage and parcel space to 28.9 cubic feet. And just as simply, you're back to comfortable six-passenger capacity. It's standard equipment . . . and extraordinarily practical.

Corvair does car-pool duty with the biggest and best of them. Going to work or school or out for the evening, you've got a genuine six-seater. As for carting around piles of stuff instead of people, just look at Corvair's station-sedan load space with the rear seat folded. And when that's full you can start on the trunk.

Corvair, you see, is no ordinary compact car. No others are so versatile, so ingeniously engineered—with independent suspension at all four wheels, an air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze. You just can't compare anything else coming out these days with a Corvair. Drive one . . . soon.

A HOLIDAY FOR WINNIE AND WIFE

Familiar cigar in hand, Sir Winston Churchill looked as jaunty as ever in a new fur-collared tweed overcoat and gray homburg as he and his wife left their London home for a holiday. They are shown in a limousine outside their house, en route to the airport for a flight to Gibraltar and some relaxation aboard the yacht of Greek shipping magnate Aristole Onassis. (UPI Telephoto)

Margaret Names Her Wedding Day

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones will be married May 6 in stately Westminster Abbey, traditional setting for many high ceremonies of British royalty.

The glamorous princess named the day today.

She and the young commoner, who until recently was a society photographer, will be pronounced man and wife by the archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher.

An announcement from Clarence House, the princess' home, said her brother-in-law, Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, will give the bride away.

The announcement touched off widespread enthusiasm. The public was in a mood to give a rousing ovation to the nation's sweethearts.

A repetition of the splendid pageantry of Queen Elizabeth's coronation was expected, with distinguished and humble visitors flocking into London from the ends of the earth.

Scotland Yard immediately started making plans to cope with an emotional demonstration of vast proportions.

It is generally expected that Armstrong-Jones will be elevated to the peerage, probably as a marquess, before the wedding.

The announcement from Clarence House, London home of Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth, said it would be a morning wedding, at 11:30.

The bridesmaids and best man were not named.

The marriage will take place two and a half months before Margaret's 30th birthday, which falls on Aug. 21. Armstrong-Jones was 30 Monday.

ALL ABOARD SURVIVE

Rescuers Reach U.S. Plane Wrecked On Spanish Peak

JERES DE MARQUESADO, Spain (UPI) — American and Spanish rescue teams today reached the wreckage of a U.S. Navy transport plane that crash-landed on a mountain peak in a raging snowstorm yesterday with 24 persons aboard.

The rescue teams radioed that all aboard survived but that 13 were in "critical condition." The plane was carrying 18 passengers and a crew of six.

U.S. helicopter teams were trying to reach the scene 3,370 feet up the Piedra de los Lobos mountain in the Sierra Nevada range but were hampered by fog and snow.

The leader of the Spanish team reported by radio that the less-seriously injured survivors were being carried out in litters.

The names of passengers and crewmen were not reported.

First word of the accident was brought out by two survivors who stumbled down the rugged mountain to this mountain village after a six-hour trek.

"We're lucky to be alive," said Lt. John Shulick of Philadelphia, who made the perilous descent with Navy mechanic C. P. Kania.

A Spanish rescue team reached the crash site at 2 a.m. about 11 hours after the four-engined R5D, Navy version of the DC4, made the crash-landing.

It radioed back that its members administered first aid to the men.

According to reports from the scene, the plane scraped the side of the mountain peak after running into foul weather and immediately crash-landed.

Shulick said he did not remember what happened.

"We just hit," he said. "The weather was real bad—it was a snowstorm, a real blizzard."

He kept repeating—almost as if in a daze—"We're lucky to be alive . . . we're lucky to be alive."

Eleven of the passengers were members of an all-service basketball team bound from Naples to Rota Navy Base in southern Spain for an all-Europe Navy tournament.

Optimists To Hear Fluoridation Talk

J. A. Campbell will speak on fluoridation at noon tomorrow before the Mill Valley Optimist Club meeting at Sabella's restaurant.

Club president Harry Johnson said Campbell is an industrialist, mechanical engineer, inventor and president of a Long Beach firm of development and manufacturing engineers.

Campbell also will talk at 8 p.m., tomorrow at a public meeting at College of Marin, under sponsorship of the Marin Pure Water Committee, Inc. The committee is opposed to fluoridation which will come before the voter in the Marin Municipal Water District on June 7.

Campbell will be interviewed at 11 a.m. the same day over radio station KTIM.

Take A Walk

NEWARK, N. Y. (UPI)—Police Justice Harold J. Stiles Jr. revoked the driver's license of Conrado Padva, who had been arrested for speeding twice within five hours, and then rejected the youth's request that he be allowed to keep his license over the week end because he had a date.

Rescued Reds Tell Of Eating Shoe Leather

HONOLULU (UPI) — Four young Russian soldiers dined on Navy chow aboard the aircraft carrier Kearsarge today, in contrast to a diet of shoe leather washed down with vodka that marked the last part of 49 days adrift in the stormy Pacific.

They are M/Sgt. Victor Zygonschi, 21; Pvt. Ahtony Kruchowske, 22; Pvt. Philip Poplavski, 20, and Pvt. Fredor Ivan, 20.

Their disabled landing craft was spotted by a patrol plane Sunday about 1,000 miles west-northwest of Midway Island. A helicopter from the Kearsarge picked up the men, who said they had drifted 1,020 miles from the site of a training exercise off the Kurile Islands.

The Russians still wore their green uniforms with red stars on their caps, although each of the men lost between 35 and 40 pounds. They said they became lost in a storm on Jan. 18.

They had some vodka, one loaf of bread, three cans of jerked beef and some water when the ordeal began. They were out of food and water when rescued, and said they'd been eating shoe leather.

Zygonschi, the group leader, first asked for vodka—but the Russians settled for hot soup, bread, coffee and cigarettes. They were emaciated but in good spirits.

The man asked where they were being sent and expressed a strong desire to return to Russia. They were told the Kearsarge was en route to San Francisco, where it is due March 15.

Sausalito To See Sister City Film

A color slide show will be given at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Sausalito Woman's Club as a step in exchange activity between Sausalito and her sister city, Vina Del Mar, Chile.

The show, "Two Principalities—Andorra and Otilasaus," was photographed by Dulce Duncan Ray with a commentary by Ernie Smith. Proceeds from the show will be used to send a photographic exhibit of Sausalito to its sister city in Chile. The cities "adopted" one another in ceremonies Saturday.

Marinite Gets Degree

A bachelor of science degree has been approved for Russel Leroy Melquist, 513 Fourth street, San Rafael, by the regents of the University of Nevada. Melquist, who finished his studies in January, concentrated on industrial management.

County Switches Road Fund Use

A switch in use of $5,000 for overlay of Meadowsweet drive instead of reconstructing the slide area of Paradise drive was authorized by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday on request of Marvin W. Brigham, county public works director.

Brigham pointed out that the money had been approved for Paradise drive in the final budget, but he said this work should be postponed as the slide area shouldn't be disturbed at this time. The road is open after being closed for a considerable time last year because of slides.

Enlists In Navy

Ronnie Evert Tavenner, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marley E. Tavenner of 157 Humboldt street, San Rafael, has enlisted in the Navy at the Marin County Navy recruiting office at 1116 Fourth street, San Rafael. He is being sent to the Naval Training Center in San Diego for nine weeks of recruit training.

Diva Announces Plan To Retire

NEW YORK (UPI) — Soprano Nadine Conner, a star at the Metropolitan Opera the last 19 years, announced her retirement yesterday.

Miss Connor, who has sung 14 leading roles in four languages during her Met career, said she was retiring in order to spend more time with her family in Compton. She is married to D. L. H. Heacock. They have two children.

The Met announced that Miss Connor would make her farewell appearance Saturday night in Gounod's "Faust."

HIGHER EDUCATION PLAN SPARKS FEUD

State Solons Wrangle And Martinez Lawmaker Offers His Own Proposal

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A watered-down master plan for higher education in California was ready for the state Legislature today.

The proposal, by Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez), contained many provisions worked out during a year-long study of educators and introduced into the Senate as a constitutional amendment by Sen. Donald L. Grunsky (R-Watsonville).

But it was designed to assure that the lawmakers retain control of the pursestrings of state colleges—and not turn them over to an appointive board of trustees.

Miller submitted a series of amendments to the committee and urged they be adopted immediately. Grunsky, backed by officials of the University of California and state and private colleges, objected and said he wanted more time to study the amendments.

Rather than force a committee vote on the Miller amendments, Grunsky asked that the bill be taken under advisement by the committee for a week. Miller then withdrew the amendments and said he would introduce his own bill.

Miller gathered signatures on the bill yesterday afternoon but was unable to get it introduced in the Senate.

"I'll get it in tomorrow," he said.

Grunsky denied to newsmen that this constituted a "feud" between him and Miller, but said that "the only reason for the Miller bill is that he didn't have his way in committee."

"Senator Miller is at liberty to put in any bill he wants to," said Grunsky. "The committee simply rejected the amendments for the reason that it wanted to study them carefully."

Miller's amendments — and the bill he planned to submit today—were based on a recommendation before the committee by Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post.

Post warned the committee that the constitutional amendment as introduced by Grunsky "greatly limits the ability of the Legislature to control total expenditures" of state colleges.

He said there should be a "clear cut" distinction between academic matters and money matters at the colleges.

The significant part of Post's proposal was separation of "those things which can best be accomplished by placing legislation in the constitution" and those which should be done by the Legislature itself.

To separate those functions, Miller proposed the constitutional amendment and an additional bill to make money matters at state colleges definitely the responsibility of the Legislature.

TOO VAGUE

Vagrancy Law Ruled Invalid By High Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court has declared unconstitutional a vagrancy law which was all but repealed last year.

Section 647 of the Penal Code, under which common drunks have been charged as vagrants, is so vague, the court ruled yesterday that it is not constitutional.

The decision was handed down as the court reversed the conviction and 180-day jail sentence of Emery Newbern of Long Beach who had asked for a writ of habeas corpus.

The court said laws, especially criminal laws, must be clear in order to guarantee the right to due process of law. It said no standard dictionary defines the term "common drunk" and that there are about as many definitions as there are courts.

The vagrancy law has been used frequently to get unwanted persons out of a community by giving them a suspended sentence on condition they leave.

At one point during the 1959 Legislature, a bill to repeal Section 647 was reported passed and the repeal accomplished.

But when it was discovered that it actually lacked one vote of passing, Gov. Edmund G. Brown allowed it to die by pocket veto.

It would have substituted a new Section 647 which does not use the terms "common drunk" or "vagrancy."

The proposed law would have listed six specific offenses—lewd conduct in public, soliciting for prostitution, professional begging, being a peeping tom, lodging in a private building without permission and loitering about a public toilet or park.

It was introduced by Assemblyman John O'Connell (D-San Francisco) who is expected to reintroduce it in 1961 at the next regular session.

Prosecution To Question Motherwell

DOWNIEVILLE (AP) — Larry Lord Motherwell, who says the 72-year-old widow he is charged with murdering made drunken advances to him, faces cross examination today.

He said he met Mrs. Pearl Putney, whom he is accused of killing, when they were neighbors in Washington, D.C. He regarded her as a sister, he continued, but she became a secret drinker and approached him as a lover during a cross country trip in 1958.

Motherwell contends he left the widow in Las Vegas on Aug. 15, 1958, but the prosecution says he killed her 28 miles east of this Sierra Nevada hamlet that day. Her bones were found 366 days later by a vacationer.

He had met her about 10 years ago when both were putting out the garbage from their apartments in Washington and she was "friendly and victorian," he said.

Mrs. Putney, a widow since 1929, changed after the death of her mother in 1957, Motherwell said.

San Franciscan Given Drunk Driving Term

Kenneth Leland Collins, 52, of San Francisco must serve 10 days in county jail for his first drunken driving offense because he cannot pay a fine.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated on Shoreline highway in Tamalpais Valley Feb. 27. Collins will be on probation for six months, during which time he may drive only for work.

Two Subdivisions Given Approval

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night approved the subdivision of a lot belonging to Jule Munger at 5 and 7 Val Vista and another subdivision for Laurence and Veryl Symmes at 309 Tamalpais avenue.

The commission recommended to the city council that, when the zoning ordinance is reprinted, there be a nominal charge of 25 or 50 cents for copies of it. Copies of the ordinance have been free to anyone who has asked.

LOVERS HAPPY AGAIN; THEY HAVE THEIR RING—AND EACH OTHER

NEW YORK (AP) — When your sweetheart hands you back her engagement ring, count 10, says Tommy McCauley, and stuff the ring safely in your pocket.

Tommy, 23, offers this advice because he didn't follow it.

Tommy angrily and impulsively hurled the ring into the snow. All day, they searched unsuccessfully for the ring with the help of police and her family. During the search, Joyce and Tommy made up.

They were about ready to face a long period of penny-pinching to buy another diamond when Joyce received a phone call from her mother.

A neighbor had spotted a twinkle under a subway grating outside the Mullan home. Some neighbor boys climbed down and, sure enough, it was the ring.

Joyce burst into tears. Her boss gave her the rest of the day off, which she spent cooing with Tommy on the telephone.

Juvenile Hall Pilot Study Plea Denied

Directors of the Rosenberg Foundation have turned down a Marin County request for a $3,000 Juvenile Hall pre-study of six months, intended to serve as pilot project to an eventual $40,000-a-year psychiatric team program at the hall.

Word of the rejection reached the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday from County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, who sent a copy of a letter from Mrs. Jackson Chance, executive director of the foundation.

Mrs. Chance wrote that the foundation directors, "after carefully considering the Marin County application did not approve the six-month pre-study to determine the feasibility of the larger project set out in the juvenile hall application."

The board last fall approved a request by Walter H. Busher, county probation officer, that the foundation "and any other possible source" be approached for financing of the pilot study.

This resulted from four months of work by David Fogel on an over-all "research design" for development of a psychiatric team attached to the hall "to provide a far more extensive diagnostic and clinical service for selected detainees than has ever heretofore been available to wards."

At that time Busher said the long-term project had such a "degree of uniqueness" that it had interested private foundations, so that "prospects for obtaining private funds to finance the program for at least three years at this time seems excellent."

He said it had been decided to approach the Rosenberg Foundation on the $3,000 pilot project after "enthusiastic support" had been voted by the Marin County Probation Committee.

SUPERVISOR ROUNDUP

Marin Drainage Bill In Hopper, Board Told

A letter from Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) saying that he has introduced a Richardson Bay drainage basin bill providing for greater federal participation, as recently requested by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, was read to the board yesterday.

Miller said the measure is House Bill 10765. He was expecting to speak in its behalf today before a House public works subcommittee considering an omnibus river, harbors and flood control measure.

Both the Coyote Creek proposal in Tamalpais Valley and the Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio flood control scheme would be covered, said Miller. But he indicated that the work might take three to five years.

Miller added that he had been told by Army Corps of Engineers officials that preliminary cost estimates for the Arroyo Corte Madero del Presidio project under present procedures "indicate a local cash contribution of $200,000." The supervisors didn't even discuss this, having long since decided that some other means must be found for the Tamalpais Valley work when the local contribution for that project was hiked to $127,000.

Further information was asked by Miller. Supervisor Vera Schultz was asked to supply it.

The supervisors also:

1. Decided it would be all right to replace the water cooler in the sheriff's office, but referred the matter to the administrator and auditor in an effort to find available funds not in the unappropriated reserve.
2. Approved continuance of the $7,500 monthly advance to San Rafael General Hospital for service to indigents, after learning from Leon A. DeLisle, auditor-controller, that the monthly cost has averaged $10,096.36 over the past year but that it varied from $5,931 to $15,447 monthly.
3. Heard from County Administrator Donald A. Jensen that $2,000 will be requested in next year's budget for an alarm system at the county hospital and farm. Meanwhile a system of magneto phones will be set up.
4. Approved for recording a map of Marinwood Unit 7A, comprising six lots in a resubdividing of an already recorded subdivision.
5. Received a letter from Jeane C. Good, president of the Marin Assn. for Retarded Children, advising that her organization will seek a parcel of land at the civic center to house school facilities for retarded children.
6. Voted to seek advice from the Marin Municipal Water District and the North Marin County Water District in a review of the problem of imported water for Marin sometime before the next meeting of the Eel River Committee on April 1.

Applications Total 382 At Marin City

There is more demand for one and three-bedroom units than for two-bedroom units in the application for housing at Marin City's new low-rent housing project.

For this reason, according to Executive Director Bert Klahn, the housing authority decided Monday to provide for 16 additional one-bedroom units and 16 more three-bedroom units. The eight five-story buildings, which have two-bedroom units, were designed, Klahn said, to be converted if needed.

Klahn said there are 382 applications from Marin City tenants for the low-rent housing. There are 22 families yet to be interviewed in Marin City and there are 46 non-residents who are to be interviewed following the residents' interviews.

The project, Klahn added, is 80 per cent complete and it is expected that the first families can be moved in around the end of March.

There are 654 families living at Marin City now, five families fewer than last month.

Two matters were put over by the commissioners in the absence of Guy Ciocca, the authority attorney. The first was the matter of the lease form to be used by the tenants in the new low-rent project. The second was the matter of annexing the Hilarita sewage facilities to the Tiburon Sanitary District.

Ciocca is ill, Klahn said.

The authority agreed to furnish refrigerators to the entire 300 units of the Marin City project, providing funds are available, Klahn said.

San Anselmo Department Store Reveals Plans For Expansion

At least one San Anselmo store will soon be expanded across San Anselmo Creek to new frontage on a yet-non-existent city street.

Expansion plans announced by Mozart Kaufman, proprietor of Kaufman's department store, last night fired the enthusiasm of city council members.

Kaufman appeared before the council to ask that it fix a definite policy on development of lands on the Sir Francis Drake boulevard side of the creek which the city has bought or is in the process of buying. Particularly, he asked that grades be set as a guide for himself and other merchants planning to build over the creek.

The San Anselmo Master Plan calls for a service road, with parking on both sides, between a widened Sir Francis Drake boulevard and the creek line.

"We like that," said Kaufman. "But we need to know the city is going ahead with that plan, and we need something a little more specific."

Kaufman said his own plans call for a two-story extension of his present store building, extending about 50 feet east, to a bulkhead erected in the creek bed. Just how this would be designed depends largely on the grade level adopted by the city for its proposed street and sidewalk and parking areas.

"I'm vitally interested in moving fast," he said.

He estimated that on the roughly 400 feet of frontage between the two bridges across the creek, San Anselmo avenue stores can be expanded by some 18,000 square feet with entrances on both sides—San Anselmo avenue and the proposed street.

This, he said, would mean an outlay for construction alone of some $270,000.

"We're talking about big money coming into the city when we get this building done," he said. "The cost to the city of buying the land along Sir Francis Drake will be repaid many times over in additional real estate and sales taxes."

Councilman William Eranchini pointed out that the city still has one piece of the necessary property to buy: that on which the Greyhound bus station is located.

"We don't need to wait for that," said Kaufman.

"What Mr. Kaufman is presenting is also in the minds of other merchants," said Mayor Arthur W. Smith (himself a merchant on San Anselmo avenue).

Councilman Carleton G. Little objected, "How can anybody do anything when all that property isn't under one head? . . . There must be about eight owners in that 400 feet."

"We know they won't all go along," replied Kaufman. "But when one starts the ball rolling, others follow."

The council, with Mayor Smith and Councilmen Carmel H. Booth and Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. expressing enthusiasm over Kaufman's plans, instructed City Engineer John C. Oglesby to establish the grades. Oglesby said the job would cost about $250.

(The Martinelli family, incidentally, also owns property backing in the creek: The building in which Mayor Smith's store is located.)

The council also advised Kaufman to meet with the planning commission, to dovetail his plans with the master plan provisions.

Also at last night's San Anselmo council meeting:

1. Fire Chief Nello Marcucci was authorized to spend up to $250 to have the threads of fire hoses changed from "California thread" to "national thread." State law provides all fire departments in California must adopt the "national thread" by 1962, but Marcucci said other Marin fire departments "jumped the gun on me" by having it done now.

2. Changing his hat to that of street superintendent, Marcucci was authorized to trade in a clamshell shovel which is too large for the truck that carries it on a smaller sized shovel, paying a difference of $200.

3. Flautt was instructed to hurry City Auditor Frederic D. Kerr on getting up a current set of fund balances. A change in bookkeeping procedure has prevented striking balances since year's end, Flautt said. But Little thought Kerr "is dragging his feet."

4. A resolution confirming assessments in the Ash Avenue Assessment District was approved after no protest was presented at a public hearing.

5. A petition by P. Cervick for rezoning to apartment use a lot at Ross and Cedar avenues was referred to the planning commission.

6. Wilshire Oil Co. was granted a variance for a free-standing, lighted sign at a service station on Red Hill avenue which it recently acquired from Menlo Oil Co.

7. Developer Frank Cherne was denied an extension on completion of sidewalks in his Woodland Park No. 2 subdivision. He had asked that other improvements be accepted without the sidewalks being completed.

8. Gerald C. Kott, Mill Valley contractor, appeared on behalf of a friend, S. J. Downie, to seek an occupancy permit so Downie could move into a new home just completed with Kott's help on Oakland avenue. City Engineer Oglesby had refused to certify the permit because no driveway has been completed, and the plans call for one with a 28 per cent grade. The council finally yielded enough to grant a permit provided a turnaround be installed at the foot of the grade, the driveway to be otherwise brought to standard, and a $500 cash bond be posted to insure that it will be. Said Mrs. Booth: "Mr. Kott, how do you get into these situations?" Said Kott, who is on probation from both state and federal charges arising from thefts of documents concerning houses he built, "I assure you I will not build any more houses in San Anselmo or anywhere else in Marin County."

9. A list of election officials for the April 12 election was approved, to be paid $15 each. Polling places were established for Wade Thomas School, city hall, 216 Greenfield avenue, and Isabel Cook, Yolansdale and Brookside schools.

10. The council authorized a 6,000-lumen street light to replace a 1,000-lumen light on Brookmead court near the entrance to Brookside School. The San Anselmo School District board is to decide at its March 14 meeting on additional lighting on the school property itself.

11. Payment of warrants totaling $37,856.35 was approved.

TEMPORARY HIKE EXPIRING

Hub Council To Study Garbage Firm's Rates

A temporary rate increase granted San Anselmo Garbage Disposal six months ago by the city council is due for close scrutiny at the council's April 12 meeting.

Councilman Carleton G. Little made that clear last midnight as he called for detailed reports on the scavenger firm's operations, noting that the rate increase period expires March 31.

City Administrator Douglas Flautt said he had been in touch with the firm's attorneys and they had promised complete figures before the end of the month. He said he would dispatch the figures, along with other data gathered by the city, to councilmen for study before the April 12 meeting (which, incidentally, falls on the night of the municipal election).

The temporary rates start with $2 per month for collections from homes in level areas.

Little also urged that the city administrator get prices on 100 liquidambar trees, to get a tree planting program going again.

Councilman Carmel H. Booth pointed out that a council-appointed tree committee is in existence.

Mrs. Virginia Hinshaw, present in the audience and a member of the tree committee, said it had met once with former City Manager Arthur E. Brewer, and "he advised us we could do nothing until he got out and made a survey."

"Would you like to reactivate the tree committee?" suggested Flautt.

The council members said they would, and Flautt promised to get the committee together to begin functioning on a comprehensive street tree planting program.

Drake High School To Hold Dinner March 21

A dinner for 30 participants in the evaluation program at Sir Francis Drake High School will be held at 6:30 p.m. March 21 ir the school's homemaking room, Principal Harold Allison has announced.

Homemaking instructor Adina W. Robinson will be in charge of dinner arrangements.

Fairfax Man Appointed San Anselmo Policeman

The San Anselmo City Council early today certified one of the largest eligibility lists in years for appointment as police patrolman, and immediately named the top man to the police force.

Eight of 26 candidates who started the examinations for police appointment were certified as eligible.

Leonard G. Musselle of 29 Woodland avenue, Fairfax, was appointed on recommendation of Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani. Musselle, who has been working as police clerk-dispatcher on a probationary appointment, was No. 1 man on the eligibility list.

Others certified as eligible were:

Hub Concerned Over Sidewalk Infringements

San Anselmo residents who have planted shrubs and hedges where sidewalks should be may face a little trouble with their city government.

On motion of Councilman Carleton G. Little, the San Anselmo City Council last night instructed Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani to make a survey of infringements on sidewalk areas throughout the city.

Little moved for the survey after a spectator at the council meeting, who did not identify himself, complained that many residents have planted shrubs and hedges out to the curb line, making it impossible to open a car door when parked at the curb or to find a haven of safety from traffic on the street.

Most city streets are curbed about five feet from the edge of the right-of-way to allow room for sidewalks, but in many of the older subdivisions no sidewalks were ever built. Many residents, councilmen agreed, have pre-empted the sidewalk area as though it were included in their lots.

Marin Local Taxes Double In 5 Years

The total of taxes levied on property in Marin by all local governments was $17,970,312 for 1959-60, the California Taxpayers Assn. reported today.

This represents an increase of 109.4 per cent during the past five years.

Included in the total taxes were $5,104,901 for county itself; $1,735,092 in municipal taxes; $9,342,074 for schools, and $1,788,245 for special districts.

Throughout the state the total tax on property was $2,060,097,511 for the same period, or an increase of 77.2 per cent for a period of five years.

SEMINARY PROCESSION

Dedication Rites In Second Day

A procession of 90, wearing black academic robes and colored stoles, filed into the chapel at the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary chapel this morning to start the second day of ceremonies in the dedication of the Strawberry Point campus.

The procession included the seminary faculty and trustees as well as representatives of 40 institutions of higher learning of the nation.

Featured speaker on today's program was Dr. Walter Pope Binns, president of William Jewell College at Liberty, Mo. He said that two functions of Christian colleges are to prepare workers for the ministry and to train non-clerical leaders so they will learn how to earn a living and how to live.

He said, "We are confused today and uncertain because there are so many problems to have." There are the problems of world disarmament, communism and civil rights. To be able to cope with these problems, Dr. Binns said, we should not only know chemistry, engineering and physics but we should study history, religion, sociology, psychology and other humanities.

The Southern Baptist Christian colleges are established with these problems in view, he said, and we should be able to equip students to cope with these problems.

He reviewed the history of Christian education in America and said that, in the early days, the Christian colleges greatly influenced state universities and colleges. Later on, as the state institutions expanded, he added, and became more specialized, these influences began to wane.

Dr. William A. Carleton, dean and vice president of the seminary read greetings from theological institutions of the nation and from abroad to the audience.

Seminary professor Gaines S. Dobbins of Mill Valley read the scripture and prayer.

The actual dedication ceremony will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the seminary chapel. Dr. Ramsey Pollard, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, will give the dedicatory sermon, and Dr. Harold K. Graves, seminary president, will lead the act of dedication.

Assembly Hopeful Opens Campaign

William T. Bagley, San Rafael attorney, opened his official campaign for election to the state Assembly last night in a talk before the San Geronimo Valley Lions Club.

Returning to his native community of Woodacre, the candidate for the Republican nomination reviewed current legislative problems and pledged support of Marin State Sen. John F. McCarthy's efforts to remove the state sales tax on drugs and medicines.

If you gloze someone, you flatter him.

Sausalito's City Planners To Meet

The Sausalito Planning Commission will consider tonight two matters which were referred back to it last week by the city council:

A use permit for Views Land Co. to build two 12-unit apartments at Shelter Cove, and a variance and use permit to allow Bob Rose to build a restaurant and shops on his El Portal street property.

The city council sent the applications back because City Attorney John B. Ehlen said they did not comply with the city ordinance in that the required statutory findings had not been made.

The commission will also have before it a request for a variance to allow an increase in the seating capacity of the Alta Mira Hotel, and a proposal to rezone a portion of Shelter Cove.

Reed District Sees 2,619 Pupils In 1970

A student enrollment of 2,619 pupils in 1970 was predicted for the Reed Union School District at last night's board of trustees meeting.

Trustee David D. Ring, in a committee report, predicted enrollment figures year by year, with 1,989 students in 1965. The figures allow for construction of St. Hilary's Church School, which is expected to affect the district in 1962.

Trustees also discussed the proposed summer school program this year with acting Supt. John C. Fitch, but put off action until their next regular meeting.

FLEXIBILITY URGED

A review of bonds and state aid authorization will be held at an adjourned meeting of the board Monday at 8 p.m. in the district office on Tiburon boulevard.

Trustees approved the site utilization plan prepared by architects Callister and Rosse for the Del Mar Estates junior high school site. The plan was also approved by the state Department of Education, School House Planning Committee, trustee Chairman Richard J. MacLaury said.

NINE ACRE SITE

The site is nine acres but, because the architects made maximum use of the space, the state approved the plan, although it usually requires 15 acres for the number of students expected to enroll, Administrative Asst. Lloyd R. O'Connor said.

Trustees approved payment of a $450 bill for extra concrete work at Bel Aire School and approved two teacher resignation requests. Resigning are Miss Bette Goulet, Bel Aire kindergarten teacher, who is leaving at the end of the school year to return to college, and Mrs. Marilyn Franceschini, who is resigning after a year's maternity leave.

Marinwood Board To Meet 1st Time

Members of the Marinwood Community Services District board will hold their first meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Mary E. Silveira School.

Sausalito Citizens Plan Zoning Ordinance Study

About 100 spirited citizens met at the Sausalito City Hall last night to discuss their city's proposed zoning ordinance.

They put themselves right in the middle of things. They formed a steering committee which will ask the city council and planning commission not to take any action on the new ordinance until the citizens group has completed a study.

The proposed zoning ordinance is still under study by the planning commission.

Alan H. Scurfield, chairman of last night's meeting, said the group's next public meeting will be at 8 p.m. Monday at Perry's Hall on Caledonia street, at which it is planned to set up committees from each section of Sausalito.

The steering committee will meet Saturday, Scurfield said. It consists of Fred Perry, Mrs. Thomas Wiper, Robert Anderson, Mrs. Marian Warnick, Frederic Shaw, Fred Turner, Bruce Bernhard and Scurfield.

City Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. was present last night as well as council candidate Lee Perricini. Ehrlich told the citizens that what they are doing will be helpful to both council and the planning commission.

Tam Pumphouse Will Be Rebuilt

The Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District board passed a resolution last night authorizing the reconstruction of the district's pumphouse.

Engineer Warren Nute said the initial cost will be approximately $4,000. The work will begin soon, according to Bruce J. Gillette, board president.

The board also voted to move the sanitary district office from 245 Shoreline highway to the Tamalpais Valley firehouse. The new location will result in greater efficiency, Gillette said.

Defense Talk Slated For Tiburon Meet

Col. Warren R. King, executive officer of the 40th Artillery Brigade at Ft. Barry, will speak on "The Aerial Air Defense of the San Francisco Bay Area" at tomorrow's membership meeting of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. at 8 p.m. in the Tiburon boulevard firehouse.

President Lee C. Megan said new officers will be elected following the talk.

Nominated are: for president, William H. Von Lackum Jr.; for treasurer, Mrs. George McKegney; for membership chairman, Mrs. Wellman Farley, and for publicity chairman, Mrs. Lee C. Megan.

Nominated for the board of directors are: Victor C. Banks, John P. Eichorn, Fred C. Hannahs, John B. McChesney, Gerry F. McDonogh, Warren B. Outten and Wellman M. Topham.

Outgoing president Megan will serve as ex officio member of the board.

The three candidates for the Tiburon Fire Protection District commission seat will be introduced and given two minutes in which to state their qualifications, Megan said. They are Dick De Berry, Don D. Ishmael and Harry M. Bragg.

Meeting Not Held

The Belvedere Recreation Commission did not meet last night because of lack of business, according to Chairman E. Allan Steinau Jr.

Planning Aid For Tiburon Project Cited

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce yesterday heard Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, Marin County planning commissioner, report that the county planning staff can give "a fairly good estimate of cost of development and cost of lands purchase in the proposed parking authority district for downtown Tiburon."

"The planning staff is devising parking requirements for each business in Tiburon and the Department of Public Works is securing the cost of abandoning the portion of Main street skirting Corinthian Island," Mrs. Azevedo said. She reported the figure would probably be ready for next month's meeting on April 12.

The chamber members voted to request the planning commission to deny the application of Milton McDonogh for construction of a two-story office building on the Tiburon waterfront without off-street parking, until the parking district can be formed.

The chamber went on record 7-3 opposing the present plan to rezone the Paradise Park area for apartments.

The element nickel was used in natural alloys as early as 200 B.C.

PUTTING UP SIGNS

Cubs Join Campaign For Conservation

Nine Cub Scouts, armed with a posthole digger, were to put up a "Put Trash Here" sign in a Mill Valley park at 4 p.m. today as part of the city's participation in Conservation Week activities.

Mrs. Calvin Terwilliger, den mother, will accompany the Cubs from Mill Valley's Pack 2, Den 2, up Cascade Canyon to the small park near the waterfall where the first of 10 such signs will be placed. A trash can will be placed beside each sign.

The signs, which are of redwood with yellow letters, are all uniform. They were approved by the Parks and Recreation Commission, paid for by the city and painted by Park Supervisor and Mrs. William R. Allison of Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

Other Scout groups, both boy and girl, will place the remaining signs in Mill Valley parks and beauty spots, Mrs. Terwilliger said. The sign-placing, she said, is the "children's effort toward conservation and to be good citizens."

Marin Gets Share In Gas Tax Refund

Marin County has been allotted $3,691.28 in aviation gasoline tax refunds for 1959, it was announced today by State Controller Alan Cranston.

The refund was based on the consumption of gasoline in the county. The total for the state was $4,279,249 representing refunds on more than 37 million gallons of gasoline.

Cranston said the six-cent motor vehicle fuel tax paid on gasoline used in aviation is subject to refund because the fuel is not used on state highways.

Executive Session Of College Board Asked

Marin Junior College District trustees will be asked to hold an executive session tomorrow night to discuss what their agenda describes as "personnel matters."

Elaborating on this, College of Marin president Ward H. Austin said he will request the closed meeting "for consideration of the reappointment of probationary teachers" on the college faculty.

California law forbids secret meetings of school boards or other local legislative bodies for purposes other than hiring, firing or hearing charges or complaints against personnel.

The executive session will be held after the college board, scheduled to convene at 8 o'clock in Harlan Hall, has disposed of all other items on its agenda.

The board will consider architectural fees of Corlett and Spackman for preparation of campus water line plans abandoned in favor of an alternate proposal. The firm has said a fee of 8 per cent, or $760, would not cover all expenses of designing the original project, estimated to cost $9,500.

Austin and vice president Paul Clymer will offer recommendations for the college music program in 1960-61. At their last meeting, trustees declined to schedule a music conference requested by Dr. John Milton Kelly, declaring the matter should be considered at a regular board meeting. Dr. Kelly directs the college choir.

The board will consider more reports of committees appointed last year to explore virtually all phases of campus activity.

Austin will recommend consideration of a proposal by C and H Supply Co. for labeling and serializing all district property. A recent audit report urged an inventory of the district's movable equipment and its periodic checking and marking as to ownership.

Conversion of the college fish pond into a planter area will be recommended by Austin to "solve many problems we have due to it being an attractive nuisance."

He will also suggest approval for a dinner meeting on college-community relations, to be attended by all college and local high school administrators and counselors and members of the college's community relations committee.

Present Laws On Dope Held Adequate

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said yesterday that the California Adult Authority and director of the state Department of Corrections feel present laws on narcotics are adequate.

The governor has been urged to call a special session of the Legislature to consider new and tougher laws.

He told a closed meeting of local, state and federal law enforcement representatives yesterday he will decide whether to call the session "as soon as possible."

After the meeting Brown said the group was divided on the question of stricter penalties and companion laws which would allow police greater freedom in gathering evidence in narcotics cases.

Brown said in his statement that representatives from Los Angeles wanted the special session, but that some Northern California representatives believed the present laws were adequate.

Drunk Driver Sent To Jail

A Petaluma rancher, who has had five previous drunken driving convictions, must spend six months in jail and pay a $250 fine for his sixth offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Alvin Peter Maffia, 41, for driving while intoxicated on Tomales-Petaluma road in October of 1958. Sentencing of Maffia was delayed until now because the warrant for his arrest was just served this year.

Maffia had prior convictions in 1935, 1940, 1941, 1944 and 1957.

During his six-month jail term, he is eligible to get out on work furlough.

Four other drunken drivers were sentenced yesterday.

Ralph Eugene Taylor, 39, carpenter of 810 Rincon way, San Rafael, must serve five days in jail and pay $250 fine. His license is suspended for 30 days. He was caught last Saturday on Vendola drive in Santa Venetia. Taylor had a prior conviction in 1955.

Norman Russell McKinney, 45, of San Pablo, must pay $150 fine and remain on six months probation. He was caught on Sir Francis Drake boulevard last Saturday.

John Carl Ostrowski, 39, of 645 Barberry lane, San Rafael drew $150 fine and six months probation. He was caught on Irwin street in San Rafael on Feb. 26.

Harry John Wesley, 43, of Court San Rafael, also drew $150 fine and six months probation. San Rafael police caught him on Irwin street last Thursday.

Wins Sales Contest

Bob Roeser, sales representative for the All State Insurance Co. in San Rafael, was one of the 18 winners of an insurance sales competition sponsored by his company for the Northern California area. His award was an all-expense paid weekend for two at the Mark Thomas Inn on the Monterey Peninsula.

Mumps, Measles Still Top List Of Diseases

Measles and mumps continued to lead the list of communicable diseases reported to the Marin County Health Department last week.

There were 34 cases of measles and 32 of mumps. Also there were: one case each of salmonella and gonorrhea, four cases of strep infection and two cases of viral meningitis.

SPRING SPECIALS

Another season is approaching and everyone takes a fresh viewpoint toward menu planning. It's easy to do — when the grass turns green, the breezes warm, and the sun sticks around longer in the evening. Think of the poor food buyer who gets ready to stock your favorite spring foods. His planning was several months ago with torrents of rain, a howling wind and nothing but darkness when he began work in the morning and quit in the evening. His outlook was bright — and as usual this Bon Air advance planning and buying will pay off in the kind of savings you'll find on this page. This is the biggest reason Bon Air can give more quality at less cost.

KLAHN SIGNS 20 BONDS AT A TIME

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, yesterday turned over 4,270 of the authority's bonds to Bank of America and received $4,270,000 for them. But before he could make the transaction, he had to sign every bond. He was helped in doing so by an automatic signature machine at the San Francisco plant of Schwabacher-Frey Co., printers and lithographers. Using it, as a person signs his name once it is duplicated 19 more times. Thus Klahn, being watched at the job here by Howard Hart, bond cashier of Bank of America, had to write his name only 214 times—still enough to get a touch of writer's cramp.

Bay Region's Living Costs Up 3 Per Cent

BERKELEY (AP)—Living costs in the San Francisco Bay Region rose another 3 per cent last year, the Heller Committee reported today.

In the six years since the research group at the University of California has been tracking living costs, expenses in the area have increased 17.6 per cent.

Greatest increases last year were medical and dental care, personal insurance and tobacco. Biggest hikes since 1953 were medical and dental costs, up 39 per cent; housing, 38 per cent; tobacco, 37, and personal care such as haircuts and permanent waves, 20.

Lowest increases for the six-year period were clothes and upkeep, 9 per cent, and house furnishings, 6.

NEW LAWN AND PLANTS

Council Approves Landscaping Job For San Anselmo City Hall Yard

The front yard of San Anselmo's City Hall is to get a new look within the next few days.

The city council early today gave the go-ahead to a plan by City Administrator Douglas Flautt to landscape the lot with planting of 45 shrubs and plants.

The lawn will be completely replaced. Flautt estimated the whole job will cost the city about $200, with the planting being done by firemen under supervision of Leo Galli of Red Hill Nursery, who designed the layout.

Plants will include Italian cypress, azaleas, rhododendrons, camellias, Hollywood junipers and fuchsias. Sixteen pfitzer junipers will be placed in the corners of the lawn.

Flautt also proposed the city own its own downtown street lights and investigate doing its own painting of street markings. The council delayed action on both suggestions until its April meeting, but councilmen offered no objections.

The city administrator said new street lights, similar to those recently installed on San Rafael cross-streets, would cost $10.40 per light per month if owned and maintained by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. If the city bought the lights and standards and maintained the lights itself, the cost for electric power would be only $3.10 per light per month, he said.

"Over a four-year period, the saving would pay for the cost of the equipment and the city would own its own street lights," he told the council.

The council granted Flautt permission to study the city's contract with Mark-a-Line, Inc., of Sausalito for painting traffic lines and curbs. The contract has a 60-day cancellation clause.

Flautt said the city has the equipment and manpower to do the job itself, and he believes it could save considerable money.

The city administrator's report wound up a council meeting which lasted until 1 a.m. today.

"My report is always one day late," he joked today. "They get to me before midnight."

Go-Ahead On High School Plans Given

The San Rafael firm of Gromme, Mulvin and Priestly was given the go-ahead to draw up preliminary plans for additions to Terra Linda High School at last night's meeting of the San Rafael Board of Education.

The architects were also instructed to prepare plans for three tennis courts at the high school.

A $300 a month salary for David H. Teather of 2340 Paradise drive, Tiburon, was approved by the board. Teather will inspect the construction of additions at Coleman School.

The board also authorized the use of facilities at San Rafael High School, San Pedro and Sun Valley Schools for Little League baseball overflow, said Raymond J. Simpson, assistant superintendent.

Corte Madera Council Hopefuls Join Forces

Two of Corte Madera's four candidates for town councilman will offer themselves to the voters as a "team" slate in the April 12 municipal election.

They are Kenneth G. Hoag, 28-year-old insurance broker of 3 Harbor drive, and Jack I. Miller, 56-year-old construction superintendent of 12 Pepper avenue.

Placards bearing side-by-side photographs of the pair were being distributed by Hoag today as the race for two council seats at stake in the election moved into second gear. Other candidates are incumbent Mayor Roger F. Morse and Ray L. DeYoung.

Billing themselves as "the team that will serve you 24 hours a day," Hoag and Miller announced a six-point platform for their joint campaign. It calls for:

1. Area representation on the town's five-member planning commission, with one representative from Madera Gardens, two from the fast-growing residential area east of Highway 101 and two from the older section of town.

2. Preventive maintenance of town streets. ("Some of our streets are breaking up even before they're paid for," claimed Hoag.)

3. Planned and orderly development of Corte Madera.

4. A public vote on the much-debated proposal to consolidate Larkspur and Corte Madera.

5. A public vote on proposed capital expenditures for such projects as a municipal swimming pool or town civic center.

6. Better street lighting.

Hoag said he and Miller decided to join forces after discovering their views on many issues coincided.

Miller, employed by Glendale Construction Co., is a 15-year resident of Corte Madera. Hoag, who operates his own insurance agency, has lived in Corte Madera six years.

School Budget Review Starts In Larkspur

The Larkspur School District board last night began a general review of the district's 1960-61 budgetary requirements.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel said that for the board's next meeting March 22 he will prepare a more specific outline of district personnel, maintenance and operational needs for the next school year.

Trustees indicated they may schedule a two or three-year program for financing the blacktopping or sealcoating of playground areas at the district's three schools.

The board adopted a policy requiring at least one district employee to be present when any school facilities are used for public or private functions. Seidel was asked to estimate the cost of having someone on hand for civic center-type activities.

Seidel said the board also gave indication it would be willing to contract for school bus service on a three-year instead of one-year basis in the future.

O. Henry said that New York City was "an aviary overstocked with jays (a country bumpkin who is a chatterbox)."

2 LANDLORDS RAISE RENT ON COUNTY

S. K. Herzog Co. notified County Counsel Leland H. Jordan that his office rent would be upped $50 a month to $350. The county lease with Herzog ran out last July 1.

Earl G. Grady, owner of the County Welfare Building, at 622 Fourth street, demanded that those offices pay $1,300 a month instead of the present $994.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen told the supervisors that the new rates seemed "appropriate" in view of increased costs and taxes and recommended that new leases be prepared.

Novato To Need 18 More Teachers, School Board Told

Novato will need 18 additional teachers this fall to keep pace with population growth and advancement of large elementary classes into the intermediate and high schools, Supt. William J. J. Smith told the Novato Unified School District board last night.

The district has 130 fulltime teachers this year, and in 1960-61 will need seven more at the elementary level, six more in the seventh and eighth grades and five more in the high school, Smith reported.

The biggest increase in enrollment will be in the high school where 208 more students are expected in the fall, and in the seventh-eighth grades where 58 more are anticipated.

Kindergarten through sixth grade will have a substantial enrollment increase, too, Smith said. He expects 176 more pupils on the elementary level.

The expected gain in high school enrollment will increase its population to a capacity figure of 879. Elementary and intermediate grades will increase from 2,714 to 2,942 students.

The board set two special meetings next week. The first, at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the district office, will be for discussion of the purchase of four acres adjoining the high school as the site for an elementary school, and consideration of plans for housing of pupils in 1960-61. The board also will do more work on a policy manual at this session.

A second special meeting will be held at 10 a.m. March 19 in the high school language laboratory, to discuss languages, linguistics and the speech therapy program.

The superintendent reported the house-to-house school census is under way and will probably be completed by March 19. Parent-teacher association volunteers are conducting the major portion of the survey.

The board decided to continue until spring vacation two adult evening classes in arts and crafts and art which have been dropping in attendance. Members expressed interest in setting up classes in any subject requested where there is a probable attendance of at least 15 to make it financially justifiable. Persons interested in having a class started should notify the high school, it was said.

In other business, the board:

1. Received a report that reaction to the noon-time teacher assistants program is generally favorable.

2. Hired James Thomas and Jack Slavin as janitors and accepted the resignation of Edmund Weber, custodian at Marion Street School.

3. Noted that a chain link fence will be put up at Hill Intermediate School to indicate the boundary line.

BELVEDERE PROTESTS RULE OUT WHITE PAINT PLANS AT HILARITA

The Marin County Housing Authority won't offend the sensibilities of Belvedereans with any more white paint at its Hilarita project.

About 20 Belvedere residents—including city councilmen—complained when the authority started repainting the Hilarita buildings, Executive Director Bert Klahn reported to the housing authority yesterday. They objected because the paint is white.

"It's the same white paint we've been using for many years," said Klahn. But the Belvedere objectors claimed white "institutionalized" Hilarita. They urged the buildings be painted "to blend into the hillside."

Housing authority members decided to accede to their Belvedere neighbors. Klahn said he would consult some landscape architect as to a suitable blending color. He suggested it might be "something in line with a green-gray."

(The Army long ago discovered a color that blends so well with landscapes it often provides its own camouflage. It is known as olive drab.)

Brown Names Marinite To State Health Unit

Dr. Daniel A. Collins of 700 Summit avenue, Mill Valley, was appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, yesterday to the governor's Committee on Medical Aid and Health in California.

The committee, which is to project the health needs of the state for the next 15 years, has 19 members of whom Dr. Collins is the only dentist.

Dr. Collins has dental offices in San Francisco. He is on the faculty of the University of California dental school there.

Dr. Collins received his dental degree from Meharry Medical College, Nashville, Tenn., and a master of science degree in dentistry from University of California. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Oral Pathology, a diplomate of the American Board of Oral Pathology and an oral pathologist at Mt. Zion Hospital.

He served in the house of delegates of the California State Dental Assn. Between 1956 and 1958 he was with the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, D. C., and was discharged as a lieutenant colonel.

He has lived in Mill Valley since 1952 with his wife, De Reath and four sons, Daniel, 17; Edward, 16; Charles, 12, and Craig, 9.

Driver Training Course Changes Recommended For Tam District

That is the proposal which the district curriculum council will make to the board of trustees after a two-year study.

It calls for the sophomore program to remain in English classes in 1960-61, with freshmen taking driver education simultaneously during study hall periods. The freshman program would continue thereafter.

Under the plan, a special driver education teacher would give six-week courses at Tamalpais, Redwood and Sir Francis Drake High Schools each semester.

It is estimated that about 35 freshmen could be taken from study halls each period. Those unlikely to continue study hall in the second semester would be scheduled for the first term.

Robert D. Torrey, director of instruction and curriculum council chairman, estimates the program will cost an additional $7,000 a year for the first several years.

He said it will enable more than 1,000 students to receive an additional six weeks of English instruction. The council listed other advantages of the proposal, as follows:

1. The 30-hour driver education requirement, by being shifted to study hall, would not be forced into another department.

2. It would be unnecessary to expand the requirement into a full semester course to facilitate scheduling.

3. Quality of driver education instruction would be improved by employment of a specialist.

Belveron Meeting

The Belveron Property owners Assn. will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Tiburon boulevard firehouse, president Allen A. Olson said.

AND THERE'S NO SWIMMING POOL

EDINBURUG, Tex. (UPI)—Asst. Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnes received a letter from a prisoner at the Hidalgo County Jail who complained:

He was not given a door key;

There was no elevator service:

Electricity was cut off at 8 p.m. so he couldn't use his electric razor, and

Firemen To Meet

The Belvedere Volunteer Firemen's Assn. will meet at 8 p. m. today in the Belvedere firehouse, according to spokesman Erwin C. Farley.

Fire Board Of Tiburon Scolded By Grand Jury

Board of Fire Commissioners of the Tiburon Fire District took a verbal scolding from the Marin County Grand Jury yesterday for using "maintenance funds" for capital outlay purposes.

The grand jurors, however, cleared the board members of any selfish or dishonest motives They suggested that hereafter the board consult the county counsel for legal advice in conducting its business.

The grand jury, headed by foreman Oliver J. Olson Jr., investigated the fire district because charges were made that certain members were conducting dishonest and illegal activities.

"None of the members of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Tiburon Fire District has been guilty of either dishonesty or criminality," the grand jury found. The only infraction disclosed by the jurors was this:

The district borrowed $17,700 from the county. This fund was restricted for use in maintenance. Of the borrowed amount, $13,702 was spent for capital outlay in violation of the constitution of the state, the grand jury report alleges.

"They are hereby censured for such conduct," the jury's report said. "The grand jurors recommend that the fire board hereafter seek and follow the advice" of the county counsel.

Grand Jurors Report On Welfare Aid

The high cost of aid to needy children cannot be reduced by helping neglected offspring alone. Attention must be focussed on the causes of this problem rather than the resulting symptoms.

This weighty observation was made yesterday by the Marin County Grand Jury, which studied welfare aid to children.

The grand jurors declared: "What is needed now is an orderly appraisal and retooling of administrative practices to deal more adequately and realistically with the problems presented to welfare departments."

Secondly, the grand jury urges support for the Aid to Needy Children Technical Committee appointed by the director of the state Department of Social Welfare. The committee is strying to put welfare recipients back on their own feet as self-supporting families.

Thirdly, the grand jury found that local welfare departments should have more flexibility. "Weekly or bi-weekly payments, instead of one monthly payment, plus controlled payments as aid in kind or to vendors in special situations would improve the caseworker's ability to teach people better management of money," the report concludes.

Vermont was an independent republic for 14 years until 1791.

Cal Defense Best Of Year; Broncs Next

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO—California's Golden Bears, gunning for their second straight NCAA basketball crown, demolished Idaho State last night 71-44.

With one down and four to go, California now heads for Seattle and the second round of the NCAA championship tournament.

The Bears demoralized Idaho State with a constant, often pressing, defense that allowed the Bengals only 15 points in the first half—the best defense Cal has thrown up this year.

California will face Santa Clara at Seattle Friday night. The Broncos, co-champions of the West Coast Athletic Conference, earned their trip to Seattle Monday night with a 59-53 win over Loyola of Los Angeles.

It will be the first meeting this season between Cal and Santa Clara, Bay Area neighbors. Santa Clara is 21-8. California is now 25-1 and has won 16 in a row.

Twelve Californians saw action against Idaho State. All-America Darrall Imhoff, the star of the Bears' final victory over West Virginia a year ago, led the scoring with 19 points although he played little more than half the game.

PLAYOFFS ON TV

KTVU (Channel 2) will televise the California-Santa Clara game to the Bay Area Friday night starting at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced last night.

Rugged Bill McClintock was next high for Cal with 15. McClintock was all over the court, strong off the backboards and picking off Bengal passes.

Homer Watkins, who could collect only 3 points in the first period, led Idaho State with 15 points. Myrl Goodwin was next with 12.

The Bears' 27-point victory margin was greater than any other rung up in the seven other NCAA tournament games that have been played.

California is the defending NCAA champion and has to be rated a prime favorite to repeat off last night's win over Idaho State, which had won 17 of its last 18 prior to last night's win over Idaho State, which had won 17 of its last 18 prior to last night's contest.

After three minutes it was 7-6, Cal. It was then that the Bears applied their famed shock treatment. For 15 minutes, the Bengals were unable to crack the Bears' best-in-the-U.S. Defense for even a field goal. It was suddenly 34-10 California—and the game had been turned into a rout.

Imhoff blocked two shots early in the contest and that appeared to throw Idaho State off-stride throughout the rest of the game. The Bengals gave up attempts to drive in for scores and instead concentrated on hitting outside shots.

Cal's reserves took over in the final few minutes of the first half and throughout most of the second half.

The winners meshed 28 of 55 for 51 per cent—their top effort of the year. Idaho State had to settle for 15 of 48 for 31 per cent—one of the Bengals' poorest efforts.

'TOE' WANTS TO TURN PRO

Gordon Tovani, the well-known bare-foot place-kicker from Kentfield, practices his art daily during lunch periods at his construction job in San Francisco. He says he plans to tryout for the Oakland team in the new American Football League. "I don't see why they don't send me a contract," Tovani reasoned. "Just think of the money they can save on shoes." Tovani's bare-footed place-kicking achievements have gained wide-spread publicity. (UPI photo)

Tamites Face Tough Opener In Tournament

Tamalpais High School Indians, representing the Marin County Athletic League, face a tough assignment tomorrow night in the first round of the annual Tournament of Champions Basketball Classic at University of California.

The Tamites run up against a potent Richmond team that boasts one of the finest records in northern California—20 victories against only 2 losses.

Richmond, according to tourney officials, averaged 51.6 points per game while limiting opponents to 40.6. Those figures rate among the leaders of the teams entered in the prep classic. Richmond qualified for the tourney by winning 12 straight games in its league play.

Tam, on the other hand, ranks last in offensive, defensive and overall records among the tourney entries.

Although the Indians, coached by former Santa Clara ace Eddie Chavez post a 10-0 league record, their overall season record was 14-6. They averaged only 41.7 points per game and yielded opponents an average of 46.6 points per tilt.

McClymonds of the Oakland Athletic League is the pre-tourney favorite with its 19-0 record and top offensive average of 66.8 points.

The Tam-Richmond game tomorrow, one of four first round tilts, will start at 7:30 o'clock. Several buses have been chartered to take Tam students to the game.

Other teams entered in the tournament are St. Ignatius of San Francisco, Monterey, Castro Valley and Hayward. The tourney continues through Saturday.

NFL Facing Anti-Trust Action: Foss

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—American Football League Commissioner Joe Foss said today the Department of Justice is compiling testimony for possible anti-trust action against the established National Football League.

Foss released here a 1,500-word deposition which he gave Justice Department investigators at their invitation several days ago.

"The Department of Justice is taking a good look at the case," Foss said. "The question to be resolved is whether the National Football League, in placing a competitive club in Dallas, made the move in order to compete with its new rival or to destroy it."

The commissioner said that the Justice Department had statements from other AFL officials and also "some players."

The deposition said in part:

"It seems to me that the admission of Dallas to National Football League membership is an obvious attempt by the National Football League to injure and perhaps deal a death blow to the American Football League, which is just getting started.

"The AFL Dallas team is owned by Mr. (Lamar) Hunt, founder of the AFL, and Dallas is the headquarters city of the league.

Senators' Shortstop Quits Training Camp

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — After winning the Washington Senators' shortstop job in spring training, 19-year-old Zorro Versalles has left camp and headed home to Cuba. He promised to return quickly, but confusion surrounded his departure yesterday. He told club executives he had to be in Cuba to pay some bills.

Snow Sparks Tam Swimmers To Win

Rick Snow captured two first places yesterday in leading the Tamalpais High School varsity swim team to a 65-21 rout of Lowell in the opening meet of the season at Tam's pool.

Snow won the 400-yard freestyle in 4 minutes, 45 seconds and the 200 individual medley in 2:27.4.

Other Tam winners were:

Bob Scott, 100 butterfly, 1:05.8; Jeff McCreary, 100 back, 1:10.0; Jack Mosher, 100 free, 57.2; Kirk Laurie, 100 breast, 1:14.1; Sandy English, diving; 200 Medley Relay (Gary Green, Ken Schultz, Laurie, Bill Emerson), 1:58.3; 200 Free Relay (Bob Mosher, Jack Martin, Jack Mosher, Sherman Stewart), 1:45.0.

Tam's 49-16 Class B victory was highlighted by Tony DePrado's two record performances—29.9 seconds in the 50 butterfly and 1:11.8 in the 100 individual medley. Tam's 200 freestyle relay also set a school record of 1:57.4.

Mays Possibly The Next .400 Hitter: Rig

COMBINED AP & UPI

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Manager Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants indicated today that he is going to have star slugger Willie Mays bunting this year.

Mays has bunted just once in nine years as a Giant—despite the fact that he is one of the game's swiftest speedsters.

But apparently Rigney feels that the team has enough power to let his great centerfielder lay down a few this season.

Will this make Mays the first .400 hitter since Ted Williams soared to .406 in 1941? "It's possible," said Rigney.

He pointed out that Mays has the speed to beat an occasional bunt out and also that if his bunting can pull infielders a little closer, then Mays can boom more hits past them.

Rigney also said Mays appears in better shape this year than in any of the past five springs.

Rigney called off an intrasquad game yesterday, ordering an extra batting practice session instead because he felt the hitters were behind the pitchers.

But the belting Willies—Mays, McCovey and Kirkland—are not among the lagging hitters. They smashed practice homers out of Phoenix Municipal Stadium off Johnny Antonelli and Mike McCormick.

McCovey, who finished with a .354 average last year after coming up from the Phoenix farm club July 30, says he is stronger this year but his timing is not yet what it should be. "I'm dragging the bat, not pulling the trigger," he commented. But he has been popping them out of the park or against the scoreboard every day.

Palmer Favored For 3d Straight Title

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the hottest golfer on the winter tour, was established today as the favorite in the $15,000 Pensacola Open which starts tomorrow. The Ligonier, Pa., pro will be trying to win his third tournament in a row. He won the Texas and Baton Rouge open's in the past two weeks.

Silent Cal

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — "Silent" Calvin Coolidge didn't get his reputation for nothing. Take it from Rep. Joseph Moore of Plymouth, a member of the Vermont legislature.

Moore, whose father and Coolidge were cousins, says he was riding from Northampton, Mass., to Plymouth with Coolidge in an automobile once.

Coolidge didn't say a word throughout most of the trip. But as they neared Plymouth, he turned quickly, as if startled, and looked out the window. Then he settled back in his seat.

"Woodchuck," he told Moore. And that was the only word he spoke through the entire trip.

Burdette Heads List Of Stubborn Holdouts

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Right-hander Lew Burdette, a 21-game winner for Milwaukee last season, heads an imposing list of Braves still holding firm in their salary disputes with the front office as major league baseball's holdout roster continues to dwindle.

With the exhibition season only three days away, the Braves still have four players unsigned — Burdette, relief specialist Don McMahon, outfielder Wes Covington and utility infielder Bobby Avila.

The rest of the major league clubs have only seven dissatisfied customers.

Also continuing the holdout siege are a quartet of American League outfielders —New York's Mickey Mantle, Detroit's Charle Maxwell, Gene Woodling of Baltimore and the always late-reporting Minnie Minoso, now with Chicago's White Sox.

The others on the list are Pittsburgh outfielder Joe Christopher, Washington pitcher Hal Griggs and infielder Ted Lepcio of Philadelphia.

The Braves, who lost the National League pennant to Los Angeles in a playoff, lured one of their key players into the fold yesterday when they signed shortstop Johnny Logan. Salary terms were not disclosed.

The Yankees signed Tony Kubek, who shifted between the infield and outfield last season, for about $18,000, a slight raise.

Guest Wins Golf Honors At Novato

Mrs. Harold Bear of San Francisco's Lincoln club led a field of 50 golfers yesterday in the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's "Guest Day" medal handicap tournament. Mrs. Bear fired low gross of 85.

Winners in the handicap divisions were:

Class B—Mrs. Bernard Hannetty, Lincoln, 95.21—74; Mrs. Philip Besse, Indian Valley, 97-22—75; Mrs. William Sherwood, Lincoln, 100-21—79; Mrs. N. A. Lalande, Sharps Park, 101-22—79.

Class C—Mrs. Velma Greene, Indian Valley, 98-24—74; Mrs. William Sparrow, Indian Valley, 98-23—75; Mrs. Lloyd Seitzinger, Lincoln, 100-23—77; Mrs. Lil Nolan, Indian Valley, 102-25—77.

Class D—Mrs. R. G. Cornellius, Indian Valley, 100-26—74; Mrs. John Gaylord, Indian Valley, 104-26—78; Mrs. A. Sommerville, Indian Valley, 109-30—79.

Wall In Hospital With Knee Trouble

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Art Wall Jr., the PGA's 1959 golfer of the year and leading money winner, is in Hahnemann Hospital with a troublesome right knee. The Honesdale, Pa., native entered the hospital last Tuesday with a kidney infection. This cleared up, but meantime his knee began swelling and had to be drained. Wall, 36, said he is not sure what is wrong with the knee.

FIRST BIG UPSET

Ohio Stuns Irish In NCAA Playoffs

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Notre Dame is the first major casualty of the NCAA major-college basketball tournament, but last year's finalists California and West Virginia today led all other favorites into second round berths.

Ohio University, after trailing by 11 points at halftime, stunned Notre Dame with a second-half surge and beat the Irish, 74-66, at Lexington, Ky., in one of six first-round games played last night.

Also scoring first-round wins were New York U., Duke, and Western Kentucky. All qualified for second-round berths in four regional tournaments opening Friday night.

PLAYOFFS TONIGHT

The last two second-round berths will be filled tonight when New Mexico State and Oregon clash in a first-rounder at Corvallis, Ore. And Kansas and Kansas State play off for the Big Eight championship at Manhattan, Kans.

Here's how the field now lines up for the four regional tourneys:

At Charlotte, N. C.—Duke (15-10) vs. St. Joseph's (19-5); West Virginia (25-4) vs. N.Y.U. (20-3).

At Louisville, Ky.—Ohio Univ. 17-6) vs. Georgia Tech (21-5); Western Kentucky (20-6) vs. Ohio State (21-3).

At Manhattan, Kans.—Texas (18-6) vs. Kansas or Kansas State; De Paul (16-6) vs. Cincinnati (25-1).

At Seattle, Wash.—California (25-1) vs. Santa Clara (21-9); Utah (24-3) vs. New Mexico St. or Oregon.

Notre Dame walked off the court at halftime with a 32-21 lead over Ohio University, but the Irish were blitzed in the opening minutes of the second half as Ohio ran off to a 44-34 lead. Setting the pace was six-six Bobby Joliff, who scored 29 points and outrebounded Notre Dame ace Mike Graney.

In the other first-rounders, California crushed Idaho State, 71-44, at San Francisco; West Virginia downed Navy, 94-86, N.Y.U. drubbed Connecticut, 78-59, and Duke trounced Princeton, 84-60 at New York; and Western Kentucky missed the tourney scoring record by only one point in blasting Miami (Fla.), 107-84, at Lexington, Ky.

West Virginia's win actually was easier than the eight-point margin. All-American Jerry West had things pretty much in control. West, who had 34 points, hit for long baskets or set up plays whenever the never-quit Middies got close. Jay Metzler led Navy with 27 points.

Sauer Sees Pennant For Giants, Also A Great Season For Mays

HANLEY

PHOENIX—Hank Sauer envisioned a 1960 pennant for the Giants today "if our front line pitching matches last year's mound record."

Sauer, starting his 24th year in baseball this season and his first as a Giant scout, also predicted that Willie Mays will have "a great season in the new Candlestick Park."

Concerning the pennant prospects, Sauer said the Giant team shapes up "just great and they are going to be tough to beat."

Sauer said if Sam Jones came close to his 21 wins of last year—"18 is a nice figure"—and Johnny Antonelli (19-10), Jack Sanford (15-12), Mike McCormick (12-16) turned in comparable records this year, "we will be over the hump."

The ex-pinch hitter extraordinary, who retired as an active player at the age of 40 last season, pointed out that "those two new fellows we got from the Orioles (Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes) are going to help out a bit on the mound, too."

"I THOUGHT we were going to make it last year," said Sauer. "Maybe it was lack of experience that kept us from getting over the hump. But once we do we are going to be up there for several years to come.

"Certainly, I think this time we'll do it. You can't win any pennants without believing you will. You must have confidence. In the final analysis, however, you know and I know that the pennant winner will be the team that wins the most of those 154 games."

Sauer feels that the pennant was lost last year when Jimmy Davenport was injured. "Without him at third, our defense was weak," Sauer said. "We lost several games there. They made the difference."

CONCERNING his prediction of "a great season" for Mays, Sauer declared that "the Willie we know has never been seen by the San Francisco fans."

Sauer explained this: "Willie, despite his .347 in 1958 and .313 last year, did not hit in Seals Stadium. He hit on the road both years. He was only .287 in Seals Stadium last year but .339 on the road. That's what I mean about San Francisco fans not having seen the Willie we know.

"Mays is not a pull hitter but he was trying to pull the ball last year in Seals Stadium to take advantage of that wind current into the pavilion. Since spring training camp opened, he has been hitting straight away to left and right center. He is getting ready for Candlestick."

SAUER SAID he was convinced that Mays tried so hard not to disappoint Seals Stadium fans he continually was pressing and over-anxious at the 16th and Bryant Street park.

"It will be different this year in the new Candlestick Park," said Sauer. "Willie won't be pressing there. And he'll have a relaxed feeling in the new park—something he never had when he was at bat in Seals Stadium. He never felt quite right in that old stadium."

A.L. Adopts Suspended Game Ruling

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — The American League today adopted a suspended game rule that conforms closely to the National League rule.

President Joe Cronin announced that games terminated at any time after 4½ innings by curfews, time limits, light failures and darkness during second games of double-headers no longer will be replayed from the start. Instead they will be resumed from the point at which they were terminated.

"Such games will be known as suspended games," said Cronin. "However, extra-inning games which are completed and still tied, will be legally tied games just as before."

Weather will take precedence in determining whether a called game will be a suspended game. A game halted by weather, and then a subsequent light failure, thus would be a completed game.

Cronin also told his umpires that he wanted them to take a more active role in public relations. A.L. umpires were encouraged to appear on radio and television shows and to cooperate with the press.

Golden Glovers Take Over Television Bouts Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Amateur boxing's best-in-the-West will be displayed on national television tonight as the finals of the 33rd Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions are held in Chicago Stadium.

Four, and possibly five, of the eight title bouts will be shown on TV, ABC, 7 p.m. PST.

This being an Olympic year, some of the winners may wind up in Rome late this summer, depending on how they are in the intercity bouts with New York's Golden Glovers on March 21 and the Olympic trials.

This will be on the televised portion of the program, along with the 147, 175, 135 and possibly the 160-pound title matches.

The light heavy championship bout pits Jefferson Davis, a boxer-puncher from Nashville, Tenn., who was runnerup to Clay last year, against Billy Joiner, who recently wrapped up four years of Air Force service.

At 135 pounds, Chicago's Brian O'Shea meets Reggie Davis of Fort Worth, Tex., and the 160-pound showdown is between KO artist Jim Ellis of Louisville and Leotis Martin of Toledo, Ohio.

Davis, Connolly Ink 49er Pacts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tommy "The Toe" Davis and guard Ted Connolly have signed 1960 contracts with the San Francisco 49ers, General Manager Lou Spadia said today.

Davis in his rookie appearance last season converted 31 points after touchdown in 31 attempts, made good on 12 of 26 field goal tries, placekicked a 43-yarder against Los Angeles for a 49er record and averaged 45.7 yards in 59 punts, another 49er record.

The former Louisiana State star also was the club's leading scorer with 67, all toe accomplishments.

Robertson Tops All-America Hoop Team Chosen By Nation's Coaches

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, college basketball's highest all-time scorer, today was voted the nation's No. 1 player for the second straight year in the All-America selections of the National Basketball Coaches Assn.

Jerry West of West Virginia, Darrall Imhoff of California, sophomore Jerry Lucas of Iohio State and Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure also were named to the All-America first team chosen in a poll of 443 members of the coaches' association.

Robertson, the six-foot-five phenom who owns 13 collegiate scoring records, received a total of 2,485 points in the voting system used by the coaches. West had 2,281 points, Imhoff 2,056, Lucas 2,016 and Stith 574. Robertson and West are repeaters from last year's team.

The team was chosen by the nation's coaches for the Wheaties Sports Federation and distributed exclusively by United Press International.

(The coaches' first team was identical to the UPI All-America picked in a poll of 338 newspaper writers and radio-TV broadcasters.)

Robertson currently leads the major colleges in scoring a record third straight season. He has amassed a total of 2,851 points in three seasons and has averaged 35 points per game this season.

The six-foot-three West, with a 28-point avarage, is a superb backcourt man. He is an excellent jump shooter, playmaker and defensive guard.

Imhoff, six-foot-10, and Lucas, six-foot-nine, are among the nation's leading rebounders. Imhoff's scoring average is only 13.5 points, but he is a standout team player and the key man in California's defense, which is tops in the country. Lucas has averaged 27 points per game.

Stith, a six-foot-five junior, is second to Robertson in scoring with a 32-point average. He is exceptionally speedy on drives and a good rebounder.

In the contention for places on the first team, Stith beat out Tony Jackson of St. John's (N.Y.) by a margin of 79 points. Jackson headed the coaches' second team, which also was made up of two Bradley players, Bobby Joe Mason and Chester Walker.

A third team was comprised of: Ron Johnson of Minnesota, York Larese of North Carolina, Bill McGill of Utah, Jim Darrow of Bowling Green and Tom Meschery of St. Mary's.

Ed Hickey of Marquette is chairman of the coaches' All-America selection committee. Members of the committee are: Hugh Greer of Connecticut, Ben Carnevale of Navy, B. L. Graham of Mississippi, Bill Rohr of Northwestern, John Benington of St. Louis, Buster Stan Watts of Brigham Young Brannon of Texas Christian, and Amory (Slats) Gill of Oregon State.

THE SEQUOIAS—A HOME FOR RETIREMENT

This is an artist's conception of architectural plans for the Sequoias, a luxurious multi-million-dollar home for men and women of retirement age to be built by the Northern California Presbyterian Homes, Inc., a non-profit organization. The home will be built on the rolling Woodside Hills above Palo Alto. Representatives of the corporation will discuss the plan at a meeting at 2 p.m. March 23 in the Westminster Room of the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael. Groundbreaking has been set for April 15, and occupancy is planned by the summer of 1961. The San Rafael meeting is open to the public, and other meetings have been scheduled throughout the Bay Area.

Alameda Company Buys San Rafael Boat Shop

An Alameda yacht sales firm next week will take over Godtfredsen's Boat Shop, longtime landmark beside the San Rafael Canal.

Actually, two firms are involved in the purchase, it was disclosed today. Both are newly formed.

Marine Investments, Inc., headed by Robert W. Field of San Francisco, appears as the purchaser from Harvey C. Godtfredsen and his wife, Dorothy. Marine Investments, Inc., has been organized simply to take title to the property, it was learned, with Custom Paper Products of San Francisco as principal stockholder.

Roland Reed Marine Corp. will take over operation of the boat yard at 145 Third street, and will add sales of a line of Hong Kong-built sailing craft to the custom boat building and repair which has been carried on for years by Godtfredsen.

This new corporation is an offshoot of Roland Reed Yacht Sales of Alameda, which has been operated as a partnership by Reed and Oscar Hughitt. Both Reed and Hughitt will make their headquarters at the former Godtfredsen shop, although they will continue to operate the Alameda outlet, which has been in business there for a decade. Both said they plan to move to Marin County as soon as they can locate homes here.

The new operators will add a sales agency for the custom import line of boats built by Choy Lee Boat Yards of Hong Kong. These include the 35-foot Lion cruiser and 26-foot Flier sailboat, both with auxiliary motors, which Reed and Hughitt have been handling in Alameda.

Opens new car agency

Foreign Car Agency Opens In Novato

A new automobile agency has opened in Novato with a line of British-made cars and an Italian scooter.

Vernon Pittroff, 859 Pine lane, Terra Linda, today announced the opening of a third E. F. Sweeney British Cars outlet.

Pittroff will manage the agency at 7380 Redwood Highway. The showrooms and lot are located just north of Grant avenue on the east side of the highway.

In addition, Pittroff said there will be a complete parts and service department, managed by Willy Rosenbaum, 1208 Lynwood drive, Novato.

The Agency will handle Morris, MG, Austin-Healey, Sprite, Jaguar and Austin cars and Vespa motor scooters.

Pittroff, who was with British Motor Car Distributors in San Francisco eight years, said the Novato agency has been opened "as a new service to the expanding Novato area."

Wildlife Refuge Open To Public Starting Tuesday

The Richardson Bay Wildlife Refuge will be open to public use starting next Tuesday.

Carl W. Buchheister, president of the National Audubon Society, said the sanctuary will be reopened because of "the substantial seasonal reduction in the number of waterfowl in the area."

The refuge is composed of 585 acres of submerged land and water surface between Belvedere and Strawberry Point.

The opening to the public means that boats can be privately launched from the shores.

Buchheister said, "When waterfowl again become plentiful in the fall, notice will be given that the sanctuary will be closed."

THAN ANY OTHER EVAPORATED MILK

*Foremost is an entirely new kind of evaporated milk . . . guaranteed to taste better, fresher than any other brand. The reason? Foremost's secret method of processing. It takes only seconds — other brands take 10 times longer! No wonder the others taste over-cooked and have that over-cooked yellow color. But not Foremost! One look at its whiter color and you know it's fresher. One taste and you'll be sold. Try it—you'll discover it really does taste fresher.

YOUR FAMILY GETS THE MOST FROM FOREMOST

A LENTEN DISH that will win approval from the whole family is the Foremost Vegetable Ring. Nutritious, hot and flavorful, it attracts the eye as well as the palate. It's made with fresher-tasting evaporated milk.

Enhance Lenten Table With Vegetable Ring

Here's a tasty and attractive choice for those meatless Lenten menus. It's the basic recipe for the vegetable ring. With this recipe as a starter, you can create a variety of easily prepared meals that will enhance your Lenten table.

While the recipe calls for one and one-half cups of chopped raw spinach, the same amount of cob cut corn, cooked noodles or rice, or even chopped or ground cooked meat can be substituted to produce many different entrees.

Or, one cup of "wet" ingredients such as solid pack tomatoes, cream-style corn, chopped zucchini or egg plant can be used.

FOREMOST BASIC SPINACH RING

¾ cup Foremost fresher-tasting evaporated milk
4 tablespoons each butter and flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
1½ cups chopped raw spinach (or your choice of other ingredients)
3 eggs, separated.

Melt butter, add flour and blend. Stir in undiluted Foremost evaporated milk while cooking to thick paste. Add salt and pepper and stir into the three slightly beaten egg yolks. Add chopped raw spinach and fold in the three eggs, stiffly beaten.

Turn into casserole or ring mold (grease either very well with unsalted shortening) and set in a pan of tepid water. Bake in a moderate, 350 degree, oven until custard is set —48 to 52 minutes.

Stroganoff Made With Soup Mix

Probably one of the most meritorious dishes of Russian origin is Beef Stroganoff which American cooks have uneqivocally taken to their hearts. Although it is generally identified as a gourmet recipe, as so many foreign recipes automatically are, Stroganoff has become quite poplar among cooks who do not ordinarily consider themselves gourmands.

If you try this particular recipe once, you are bound to add it to your list of favorite dishes. It is made with the famous California Dip as an important ingredient. This happy mixture of sour cream and onion soup mix imparts a tantalizing flavor that makes this recipe unique.

BEEF STROGANOFF

1½ pounds beef filet or top sirloin
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon oil
2 chopped green onions
¼ cup white wine
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups "California Dip"
Chopped parsley

Cut meat into very thin strips. In skillet, heat butter or margarine and oil then quickly brown meat 1-2 minutes. Remove to heated serving dish. Saute the green onions until tender. Stir in wine, pepper and California Dip, simmer slowly until onion pieces are soft, about 5 minutes. If desired, this sauce may be thickened with flour. Pour sauce over beef strips and top with chopped parsley. Serve with buttered noodles or rice. Makes 4-6 servings.

California Dip: Combine 1 pint commercial sour cream and 1 package onion soup mi just as it comes from the pac age. For one cup of mix us ½ pint sour cream and tablespoons (½ package) wel blended onion soup mix.

A Tasty Tribute To The Irish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Irish indeed will your table be on St. Patrick's Day if you serve that old-country dish called Colcannon. A simple combination of potatoes and green cabbage, it won converts years ago in Ireland, Scotland and America. Whenever we give the recipe, it continues to charm.

Over 100 years ago Mrs. Hannah Widdifield featured the dish in her "Widdifield's New Cook Book or Practical Receipts for the Housewife" published in Philadelphia. But Mrs. Widdifield called the dish Kale Cannon, even though she specified that it be made with cabbage.

Her name is understandable because kale is a Scottish word derived from "coles" — term used early in culinary history for cabbage as well as any other plant of the cabbage tribe. In Irish recipes we've come upon, kale (as we know it) sometimes displaces cabbage in Colcannon.

Our modest recipe for Colcannon for eight diners is made this way. We cook 2 pounds (6 medium-sized) pared potatoes in a small amount of boiling water with ½ teaspoon salt. After draining we mash them until smooth with a couple tablespoons of butter and the same of cream or milk. Meanwhile we shred enough green cabbage on a coarse grater to make 3 cups packed down and cook it until soft in a small amount of boiling water with ½ teaspoon salt; after draining, this is added to the mashed potatoes with a small onion that's been minched and cooked in a few tablespoons of butter until it's wilted and golden. Next salt and freshly-ground pepper to taste go in .We reheat the mixture, or keep it hot, over boiling water. If the dish is dry, more butter and cream are beaten in.

To garnish Colcannon for St. Patrick's Day, cook an extra medium-sized potato and after the spuds are mashed, save out one-half cup. Mix a drop or two of green food coloring into the reserved potato and put through a decorator tube in the shape of a shamrock over the cabbage and potato mixture in its serving dish. If you're having a buffet, and own a chafing dish, you'll find it's perfect for Colcannon.

Cherry Pudding Has Quite A History

Interested in a relative of the fruit cobbler, pandowdy, dumpling, slump and grunt? Then this recipe for country-style cherry pudding may intrigue you.

All these desserts are combinations of fruit and biscuit or batter, quick to make.

One guess as to why these old-time desserts were made so much in American kitchens, is that when Great-grandma put up fruit there was always a little leftover left. Tired out from canning and preserving, and in need of a super ending, she mixed up these in-a-hurry puddings with the fruit remainders. The desserts were always served fresh from the oven with plenty of pour-on cream.

Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound and 1 ounce) dark sweet pitted cherries (packed in heavy syrup), ⅓ cup butter or margarine, 1 cup sifted flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup milk, ½ teaspoon almond extract.

Method: Drain cherries and reserve syrup for sauce. Heat oven to moderate (375 degrees). Melt butter in a 1-quart baking dish in oven; remove. Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt nutmeg and sugar into a mixing bowl; gradually stir in milk and almond extract but do not beat. Turn into hot baking dish with butter in it; butter will come to top. Spoon drained cherries into center.

Bake in preheated oven 40 to 50 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean; make sure batter is set. Allow to stand about 10 minutes before cuting. Serve warm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

For Pudding Sauce gradually stir 1 cup reserved cherry syrup into 1 tablespoon cornstarch, and a dash of salt, until smooth. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened. Stir in 1 tablespoon butter until combined and, if desired, 1 tablespoon dark rum or 1 to 2 tablespoons cognac.

cane sugar

Next to our children, sugar cane is about the sweetest thing we grow in Hawaii.

And as you see above, we don't try very hard to keep the kids from the cane. Because Hawaiian cane grows so pure, sweet and clean, little Hawaiians eat it raw. While we grown-ups busily make it into sugar for you. C and H Sugar. World's finest, we believe.

For nature has smiled on these islands. The rains fall gently. The sun shines passionately. And in this earth even orchids grow wild. This must be where sugar was meant to grow.

Will you keep using C and H Sugar? We're outrageously proud of it.

'Mad Hatter's Party' Planned By League

A Mad Hatter's Tea Party to celebrate the "Un-Birthday" of Marin's Family Service League will be presented Wednesday, March 16, from 2 to 4 p. m. in the Kent Woodlands home of Mrs. Arnold Wieser, 444 Woodland Road.

Guests will be greeted at the door by Mrs. J. Bland Rogers as the Hatter. Tea will be poured by Mrs. Neill Smith as Alice-in-Wonderland, and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Ralph Cole as the March Hare.

Highlight of the afternoon will be a talk by Mrs. Mary Miller of Fairfax, whose hobby is millinery. She will discuss hats and trimmings as she demonstrates uses of hat accessories. Tea party-goers have been asked to bring a favorite hat for re-trimming suggestions, or one which they would like to add to the hat exchange table.

According to tea party chairman Mrs. Theodore Olsen, purpose of the affair is to entertain prospective new members of Family Service League, and all Marin branches will participate by bringing guests.

Organized last spring as an adjunct to Marin's Family Service Agency are branches in Strawberry, Belvedere, Mill Valley, San Anselmo, Kentfield and the Larkspur-Corte Madera area.

Mrs. Olsen and Mrs. Wieser are being assisted with tea arrangements by Mesdames Carl Schmitt and Louis Britt.

Triple C Hears Address On State Migrant Ministry

A talk on the California migrant ministry given by Miss Mary McFarland and selection of a nominating committee for officers were highlights of the recent luncheon meeting of the Community Church Club.

Basing her talk generally on questions from the audience, Miss McFarland spoke of the migrant ministry's organization 40 years ago by a group of women who wished to do something for people who follow crops and are often isolated from church and community.

Thirty states have migratory farm laborers, Miss McFarland said, and those in California are the highest paid, averaging $1200 to $1500 a year. Children who must work to help support the family are generally 13 to 15-year olds. Many are younger, she said.

"Because agriculture as an industry is excluded from child labor laws," the speaker continued, "many children are employed as crop laborers. I have seen seven-year-olds working all day long in the fields."

The migrant ministry performs church worship, conducts Sunday school, daily vacation Bible school, organizes youth groups and women's clubs, and helps to integrate workers into local church and community life. The ministry is also trying to get better working conditions for the migratory laborers.

At a business meeting conducted before Miss McFarland's address, Mrs. William B. Allen, Triple C president, named an officers nomination committee composed of Mrs. F. A. Juch, chairman, and Mesdames T. L. Harris, W. M. Everhart, C. L. Cummins and Carl Jensen.

Covina red camellias from the garden of Mrs. W. H. Symmes added a colorful note to tables for the luncheon planned and directed by Mrs. Robert Jenkins, assisted by Mesdames Robert Andresen, Leslie Jonas and Robert Matson.

Architect To Address AAUW Branch

Space and form as an element of design will be the topic of Felix M. Warburg, noted Marin architect, at the Decorative Arts section of Marin Branch AAUW on Wednesday evening, March 16, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. T. A. Olsen, 70 Marina Vista, Larkspur

Warburg, who received his architectural training at Harvard University, has resided in Marin County for seven years. Formerly with several San Francisco architectural firms, he has had his own office in San Rafael for two years. He is expected to inject into his discussion some sidelights of the recent Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, where he participated in the architectural planning.

This is the third program in the design study series of the Decorative Arts Section. Mrs. Richard O'Hanlon of Dominican College spoke to the group in January on Line in Design, followed by a panel discussion in February on Color and Light conducted by Mrs. John V. Rogers, Mrs. R. H. Spatz, Mrs. Krieg S. Vezie, and Mrs Roland L. Hauck Jr., chairman of the section. In April, Mrs. C. L. Zethraus, Marin weaver, will speak on Texture.

DEBUTANTE COTILLION IN MARIN?

The newly formed Marin General Hospital Auxiliary has under consideration the possibility of holding a debutante cotillion in Marin County beginning either in 1961 or 1962.

Mrs. Harrison Leppo, president, has appointed Mrs. Donald Jeffries chairman of a committee to study and evaluate the possibility of this party in Marin County. Their findings will be presented to the board for action. The cotillion would be similar in many ways to the one held in San Francisco every December.

Golden Star's Initiation Plans Made

At the recent meeting of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge 112 at the IOOF Temple, San Rafael, with Mrs. James Williams, noble grand, presiding, candidates for membership were voted on. Plans were made for initiation on Thursday night, April 21. Mrs. Williams also announced that a cookie and candy sale will be held by the lodge. The location for it has not been chosen. She also said that members of Odd Fellows lodges in District 11 would be entertained on Thursday night, March 17.

Mrs. Harry E. Wall, district deputy president of District 61, gave instructions on lodge work. Mrs. Wall, who is also heart fund chairman for Golden Star, announced that Golden Star and Tamal Rebekah Lodge 393 of San Rafael and Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 of Mill Valley held a highly successful card party recently clearing $81 which will go to the heart fund. It was also announced that a dance group composed of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs gave a dance recently, raising $669.10. This money is also going to the heart fund.

John Stirling spoke on the life of Schuyler Colfax who wrote the Rebekah ritual. He was born March 23, 1823. The ritual is very similar to that in use today. Stirling said that the Rebekah degree was adopted by the Grand Lodge (IOOF) in 1851. Mr. Colfax served several terms in Congress and was vice president during the presidency of U. S. Grant.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served at tables decorated with story book dolls, candles and flowers. On the committee were Mesdames Mary Bruni, Frank Mirgon and Lance Devericks.

Scout Week In Novato

A placque entitled "A Girl Scout Lives Here" will be displayed at the home of each registered Girl Scout and adult in Scouting during Girl Scout week (March 6 through 12) in Novato.

Many downtown business firms in Novato will feature Girl Scout displays in their windows and Scouts and Brownies will hold meetings at a local furniture store Monday through Friday from 3 to 4 p.m. Saturday will feature a playday for Brownies conducted by Senior Scouts.

More than 300 Novato girls will celebrate the 48th birthday of Scouting in America on Saturday. Chairman for the events of Scout Week in Novato is Mrs. Cecil Walton.

'Bal Fantastique'

A "Bal Fantastique" is being planned by the Reed Guild of Sunny Hills for Saturday night, April 2, according to Mrs. Donald McCune, president.

The dinner dance, which will be preceded by cocktails and entertainment will be held at The Village in San Francisco. Mrs. Alan Cundall has been appointed general chairman. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Kent L. Beardsley in Tiburon.

Episcopal Women To Hear Talk On Service Agency

What is the Family Service Agency? Ward Laidman, case worker for that agency, will answer the question for the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of the Nativity on Tuesday, March 15, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Gus Raney, 679 Appleberry drive, Lucas Valley.

For the past three years Mr. Laidman has been a case worker for the Family Service Agency in San Rafael. Prior to coming to Marin County, Mr. Laidman, a graduate of the University of British Columbia, worked with the child welfare department in Vancouver, British Columbia, in the fields of adoptions, teen-age problems, and the problems of broken homes.

Dessert and coffee will be served during the question and answer period conducted by Mr. Laidman.

Those interested in attending the meeting are asked to notify membership chairman Mrs. Paul Kiefer, 624 Kernberry drive.

San Rafael P-TA Council Studies State Policy Changes

Among the most important items on the agenda at the recent meeting of San Rafael Parent-Teacher Association Council was a report on proposed changes in the statement of policy of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers with regard to the type of legislative program it will follow. According to Mrs. Malcolm Finley, council legislative chairman, the proposed changes will define the broad policies upon which the C.C.P.T.'s political action is based, and which determine whether the state organization will support or oppose a given legislative bill. Mrs. Finley asked that all unit presidents present the proposed changes to their units and receive instructions from them as to how unit delegates should vote on the matter at the state convention in San Francisco in May.

Mrs. S. H. Diehl, council president, announced that the Marin County Scholarship Committee will meet in May to choose this year's scholarship winners. The scholarships, which are made possible by 10 cents out of each P-TA membership dollar paid in Marin County, are awarded on the basis of need plus high school record. The amount of the scholarships varies each year according to available funds.

This year, bylaws changes have been proposed which would increase the membership of the committee, and provide for a school administrator to attend meetings in an advisory capacity. Mrs. Diehl stressed the point that need is the paramount factor in selecting winners. Complete anonymity of applicants is maintained during the selection process.

Other business of the Council included the appointment by Mrs. Diehl of a committee to study and report upon possible uses to which the Council's surplus funds may be put. Appointed were Mesdames Leiton Elder, Robert Clarke and Byron Eshelman. Last year, Council members voted to use surplus funds to provide a campership for a needy child.

Mrs. Diehl also appointed three members as P-TA representatives on the Marin Council of Community Services. They are Mesdames Malcolm Finley, Roderick Chisholm and Walter Tait.

It was announced by Mrs. Gedge Knopf that she and Mrs. Tait have been chosen to represent P-TA on the San Rafael Recreation and Park Advisory Board.

Plans were announced for the council's annual meeting, to be held on April 1 at the San Rafael Presbyterian Church, followed by luncheon in the church recreation hall.

Guild Holds Dinner Dance

Leprechauns were climbing on candles and perching saucily on giant shamrocks Saturday evening at the Paul Marrin home in San Rafael when the Sunny Hills' Toy Booth Guild members and their husbands enjoyed the annual dinner dance.

Conversation was particularly animated at the festively-decorated table at which the Lee Marriotts were seated, as they recounted tales of their six-month vacation trip from which they had just returned. Their journey began in Europe with the longest period of time spent in Spain, and ended in Mexico City. The Marrins, who leave in April for two or three months in Europe, were urged by Lee to spend some time in Athens.

The roast beef dinner was enjoyed by all those present, as were the "carving" talents of Bill Bremer. Mrs. Lloyd Meyer was chairman of the event.

THE SORORITY event at Rickey's will benefit the Hearing Society of Marin and will mark the sixth year of assistance to Marin hard-of-hearing children and adults by the Delta Zeta Alumnae. (Independent-Journal photos)

Hug-Shugrue Rites Held In Mill Valley

Living in Mill Valley following a honeymoon spent in Southern California are the recently wed Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roger Hug. The bride is the former Annette Dare Shugrue.

The young couple was married in single rites performed by the Rev. Edgar Nelson in the Mill Valley home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Shugrue. It was decorated in an early spring theme with pale pink blossoms and white candles

When Annette was given in marriage by her father, she was wearing a waltz length gown of white dotted Swiss organza designed with puffed sleeves and taffeta sash. A seed pearl trimmed gold coronet held her fingertip veil, and she carried a French bouquet of pink rosebuds and white sweet peas edged lace.

Gerald Hug of San Anselmo was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hug of San Anselmo. A third son is Richard Hug of San Anselmo.

Mrs. Shugrue wore a gold print silk dress and brown orchid corsage, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a green and white print silk frock with matching accessories and lavender orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Tamalpais High School and the College of Marin and is employed as a dental assistant in Mill Valley. Charles is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and the College of Marin and is employed as a chemist with Dumont in San Rafael.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wahgren of Mill Valley are the bride's grandparents. The bridegroom's maternal grandmother is Mrs. Ethel Perry of San Rafael, and his paternal grandfather is J. E. Hug of San Anselmo.

San Rafael Senior An Honorable Mention

Linda Ruth Warren, San Rafael High School student, received honorable mention in the test for title of Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. Chosen homemaker in the contest in which 29,238 senior girls in 451 high schools in California participated was Carolyn Louise Brahm of George Washington High School in Los Angeles. Miss Warren was one of eight girls receiving honorable mention.

Delta Zeta Alumnae Plan Bridge Lunch

A sixth year of assistance to Marin County hard-of-hearing children and adults will culminate on Saturday, March 19, when the Delta Zeta sorority Marin County alumnae chapter holds its annual luncheon and bridge to benefit the Hearing Society of Marin.

The event is set for 12:15 in the Marinoma Room at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio. Chairman is Mrs. Robert M. Tanem of San Rafael.

During the past year, the Hearing Society has established a new organization to assist hard-of-hearing children, the Parents' Group, and has assisted them financially. Listed among the Society's purchases is that of a piano for the deaf class at Marindale School in Terra Linda.

The Society's main project for this year is to continue studies of the community to ascertain the best method of assistance to hard-of-hearing children and adults, according to its president and Delta Zeta philanthropies chairman Miss Slavka Cibilich of Corte Madera.

A non-profit group organized in 1956, the Society sponsors the lip-reading class taught at the College of Marin. Delta Zeta Mrs. Victor Abrahamson of Sausalito is serving her third term as secretary for the Society's board of directors.

Delta Zeta alumnae work closely with the Society through out the year, weekly serving as volunteers in the Marindale School deaf children's class and participating for three years in the Society's local National Hearing Week May program. Delta Zetas also serve on the organization's board of directors in committee capacities.

Local alumnae also participate in the sorority's national philanthropy, which since 1944 has been aid to the hard-of-hearing. The chapter financially assisted in the furnishing of the Edward Miner Gallaudet Library reading room at Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., for which the national social sorority was solely financially responsible. This college, the only college for the deaf in the world, has been adopted by Delta Zeta to benefit from the sorority's national philanthropic program.

The chapter also participates in county-wide community activities, such as the Sunny Hills Grape Festival, and supports activities of the four Northern California college chapters.

Mrs. W. A. Anderson is the Pink Lady in charge of these tours, who sees that visitors are given an informal, friendly tour. Administration is pleased to have groups request hospital tours. The young people learn much about their community hospital and enjoy the refreshments Pink Ladies serve at the end of each tour.

Sausalito Club Hears Reports

Mrs. Willard A. Hall, chairman for community service, reported that club members had given almost 26,000 hours in volunteer work during the club's fiscal year. Her findings will be submitted to the Golden Gate District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs on a competitive basis.

Also reporting, was Mrs. Warren Zimmer, civics chairman, who discussed the proposed revisions to zoning ordinances for Sausalito. The club, dedicated to "the promotion of whatever tends for the best interests of this town," maintains an active interest in city government.

The president, Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, introduced two new members. Mrs. William A. Austin, who is a graduate of Stanford University and has one daughter, is a past president of the Sausalito Nursery School. Her interests are painting and stage designing. Mrs. Walter Harrington attended Bryn Mawr at the same time as her sponsor, Mrs. Henry G. Douglas, and was graduated from Vassar. Mrs. Harrington does volunteer work at both Marin General Hospital and the Grace Cathedral Gift Shop.

Greeting members at the meeting were Mesdames Robert G. Anderson and Hallum Burr Cooley. Flower arrangements were done by Mrs. Guy Ryerson. Mrs. Brian T. F. Rowlands is tea chairman for the montin of March and presiding at the tea table were Mesdames Matthew J. Dooley and Glenn T. Hall.

Marin Women

Art Education Topic For MacPhail P-TA

Mrs. Antoinette Lynch, art consultant for San Rafael schools, will be the speaker at the meeting of John MacPhail School Parent Teacher Association tomorrow night at the school. Mrs. Lynch's subject will be "Your Child and His Art." She will tell of the current art program and show color slides of work of children from kindergarten age through the sixth grade. The meeting will follow the open house in the new school library which will be from 7:45 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Ross Pignaz will preside at the meeting at which officers for the coming year will be elected. Refreshments will be served before the meeting by Mesdames Donald Dunn and L. C. Baker.

AQUACADE TRYOUTS SATURDAY

Saturday is the last swim tryout for girls who wish to participate in the 15th annual Ballet Acquacade to be held in June.

Tryouts will be held at Sir Francis Drake High School from 1 to 3 p. m. according to Mrs. Thomas E. Gilboy, chairman of the tryouts.

The newly-formed Marin General Hospital Auxiliary is joining forces with the Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae unit of the Junior Theater of Marin to sponsor the Ballet Aquacade, which this year will be held at the Ann Curtis School of Swimming.

Sewing Circle Meets

Next luncheon and sewing session will take place in the home of Mrs. A. N. Manchester in Marinwood on April 7.

During the business portion of the meeting, the Honorary Life Membership Committee will present an award to a person in the community who has done outstanding work with children.

The nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Allison Jopson, Mrs. Reyner Kollgaard and Mrs. Ned Hassen will present names for the election of P-TA officers for the coming school year. After the program, refreshments will be served by the fifth grade room mothers.

Delicious Spread

Sorority Alumnae Meeting Tonight In Haskell Home

The Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae of Marin County will meet at the home of Mrs. Thurlow Haskell, 267 North Almenar drive, Greenbrae, at 8 o'clock tonight. There will be an election of officers.

Plans will also be made for the sorority's International Reunion Day on April 30. The luncheon, which will be attended by all undergraduates and alumnae in the Bay Area will be held at the Los Altos Country Club, Los Altos.

The group will also wrap surprise packages to be sold at the Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon, March 15, which will spotlight the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the Easter Seal Drive. Mrs. Richard France, 374 Hyacinth, San Rafael, will be one of the models. Mrs. Thomas Garrett, 49 Paloma, Corte Madera is chairman of the special events for the Easter Seal drive and Mrs. R. L. Baxter, 161 Stetson, Corte Madera, is chairman of the luncheon.

Bridge and dessert will follow the business meeting.

Pediatrics Receives Gifts From Groups

The Pediatric Department of Marin General Hospital has received many fine gifts recently. Girl Scout Troop 231, San Rafael, under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Huck, San Rafael, assisted by Mrs. W. McCollister, made mobiles for the children.

The Zatayuskin Camp Fire Group of San Rafael made and gave tray tayons to Marin General which brightened meal time for many.

Snow Trip For Scouts Set Saturday

A trip to the snow has been planned for Girl Scouts in the Corte-Madera-Larkspur neighborhood on Saturday 12, which is designated as "Out-of-Doors Day" in Girl Scout Week.

Girls and their leaders will meet at the Recreation Center in Corte Madera at 5 a.m. where a chartered bus will take them to Strawberry Lodge in the Sierra. Mrs. Robert Mauch, chairman, promises a day of fun for all.

On the return trip Girl Scouts will stop in Placerville where they will climax the day with a dinner at the Blue Bell Coffee Shop. The banquet room has been reserved for the group with tables decorated in green and yellow and a special surprise has been promised for the girls.

Representing Larkspur will be girls from troop 184. Corte Madera Scouts have signed up from troops 114, 129, 236 and 173. Accompanying the girls will be Mrs. Robert Mauch, Mrs. Howard Perry and Mrs. F. J. Malone. Mrs. F. B. Schullerts and Mrs. B. P. McCarthy of Greenbrae will travel with members of troop 211 who have been invited to join the group. It is hoped that this will become an annual neighborhood event.

Other Larkspur - Corte Madera activities for Girl Scout Week include a special nondenominational church service at Redwoods Presbyterian Church, Larkspur, March 6, a window display at a Larkspur insurance company planned by Mrs. John Smoot and a Corte Madera window display at a local store directed by Mrs. Robert Mauch and Mrs. Paul Gray. Theme of the latter display will be "Girl Scouting In Your Community" and will include leaders and girls uniforms, council activities and handicrafts.

Christine Ibach Entertains Coeds At Dinner Party

Following dinner the young people attended the Mills College annual winter formal held at the Top of the Mark in San Francisco.

Next campus activity for Mills students will be the annual dessert fashion show, "Springtime Nineteen Sixty," to be held March 19 in the Mills College Art Gallery.

League Officers Here On Visit

Mrs. Stephen T. Ochoa of Tucson, Ariz., Director of Region XII of the Association of Junior Leagues of America, Inc. will make an official visit to San Francisco today, tomorrow and Friday.

During her stay here she will tour all of the current projects of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc. She will be the guest of the Palo Alto Unit at luncheon today and will tour the San Mateo Unit projects that same day. The Marin Unit will host a luncheon in her honor the following day and Friday she will attend a meeting of the Board of Directors, followed by a luncheon at Hotel Mark Hopkins.

GOLDEN STATE COTTAGE CHEESE

Cottage Cheese makes the salad—and Foremost-Golden State makes the difference. Creamy little morsels with all the fresh, delicate flavor of perfect cottage cheese—the tenderest cottage cheese that ever dolled up a salad. Be a doll yourself; treat 'em to Foremost-Golden State—soon!

YOUR FAMILY GETS THE MOST FROM FOREMOST

LENTEN DISHES
with Golden State Cottage Cheese

Golden State Scramble

5 or 6 eggs
Salt and pepper
1 cup Golden State cottage cheese
3 minced green onions

Curried Cottage Cheese Casserole

4 chopped hard-cooked eggs
3 cups cooked rice
1 cup Golden State cottage cheese
½ to 1 tsp. curry powder
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 small can spicy tomato sauce
1 tblsp. minced onion

Combine eggs, rice, cottage cheese, and curry. Turn into greased casserole and dot generously with butter. Heat together soup, tomato sauce and onion and pour over rice mixture. Bake in moderate oven about 25 minutes.

Stuffed Pepper Surprise

4 green peppers
2 cups cooked noodles
1 cup Golden State cottage cheese
1 cup thick cream sauce
Salt and pepper

Remove tops and seeds from peppers and parboil. Mix noodles, cottage cheese, and cream sauce. Season to taste, then fill peppers with mixture. Bake in moderate oven until tender. Serves 4.

Lodge Whist Party

Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 and Mt. Tamalpais Lodge No. 399, IOOF, will give their public monthly pot luck supper and whist party Wednesday evening, March 16, at the IOOF Hall in Mill Valley.

On the committee for the 6:30 p.m. supper are Mesdames William Roberts, Jack Clausen and Peggy Dahl. In charge of the 8:15 p.m. whist party will be Frank McKay, Al Hughes and Clifford Spinney.

Rummage Sale Set

Highly successful was the rummage sale given for the benefit of Organized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints held last week in the Peter Building at Fourth and C streets in San Rafael, Mrs. Rita Prickett, chairman reports. She says that many articles will be placed on sale again at greatly reduced prices and that the sale will be continued on Friday from 9:30 to 4 p.m. in the same location.

2 Rebekah Lodges Hold Initiation

Five members were initiated by Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 and two by Sebastopol Rebekah Lodge 44 in ceremonies conducted recently in the Odd Fellows Hall, Mill Valley.

New members of Blythedale are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, Mrs. Carolyn Tonner, Miss Shirley Luetke and David Dodds, all of Mill Valley. Dr. W. E. La Force and John Afton of Sebastopol were the new members initiated by the Sebastopol and welcomed by Blythedale Noble Grand Mrs. Eldora Clinton.

For the occasion large baskets of spring flowers were placed at each of the officers stations, and refreshments were served on tables decorated with smilax and camellias. Committee members were Mesdames Richard Bennett, Rose Lorenz, J. O. Anderson, Kathryn Young, Ethel Fostine and Carry Staley.

It was announced that Mrs. Wall will hold a school of instruction tomorrow at the next meeting of Blythedale Lodge in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Hall.

Steak Instruction

When broiling a 1-inch steak, place the meat so it is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. A 2-inch steak should be placed 3 to 5 inches from the heat. Serve steaks piping hot. Never allow steak to wait for the guests.

Scout Council's Dinner Tonight

Corte Madera Recreation Center in Corte Madera has been reserved by the Marin County Girl Scout Council for its annual dinner tonight at 6:30 p.m.

Dinner will be followed by a program which will include presentation of adult awards. Working on the dinner committee are Mesdames Lawrence Murray, chairman, Thomas Mellon, Howard Perry, R. T. Mauch, George Daum, James O'Rourke and Clarence Lesko.

Lu Sutton P-TA Meet Tomorrow

The Lu Sutton P-TA meets tomorrow at West Novato School, Center road, Novato.

The program will start at 8 p.m. and will be "Lu Sutton Variety Show," including Miss Vicy Larson's fifth grade square dance group; Mrs. Robert Knoe's "Mothers choral group"; Ray Monson's Slap Happy 4 Combo (also in it are Douglas Jewett, Sam Hegler and Mrs. John Crozier); a parody by Mrs. Jack Donaldson; solo selections by Robert Kone. Community singing is included in the program.

Hostesses for the evening will be the fifth grade room mothers: Mrs. Hugh Butler and Mrs. Henry Thorn.

Art Showing At Opening

An initial event to mark the opening of Princeton Inn will be an exhibition this weekend by local artists in the main lounge of the inn, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Tonini of Ross. All bay area artists are invited to participate. The show is being given as a memorial to a 16 year old brother of a San Mateo artist, who was a cancer victim.

The inn at Princeton, five miles north of Half Moon Bay, is in an area where artists love to sketch and paint. Among these is the well known Galen Wolf, who paints in both oils and water colors. He will have a number of his paintings on exhibition. Other exhibitors will be Forrest Young and Jan Tiura, who lives at Princeton.

No admission is charged for the show which will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

In Making Crumbs

To make fine bread crumbs in the electric blender, crumb just one slice of bread at a time; blend on high until finely crumbled and then empty the glass container into a measuring cup; continue the process until you have the needed amount of crumbs.

Cotati Is New College Site, Construction Starts When?

Many months ago we warned in this space that Marin County was doing nothing to attract the proposed North Bay State College. At that time we were right; no one was.

But a number of Marinites, particularly a group of Novato residents and men affiliated with the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, took our warning seriously. They went to work, found an ideal site near Novato for a state college and undertook the job of proposing the site to the state.

It was through no fault of these men that Marin was not selected. They did a yeoman's job of amassing material and information and made numerous presentations and contacts in telling Marin's story. So did Marin Senator John F. McCarthy.

But they were up against the most bureaucratic stone wall in state service, the State Department of Education. The department made up its mind early in the game where it wanted the college to be placed. Although their later survey of student potential showed the Marin site would serve 1,700 more students than any other site, they discarded its findings. For all practical purposes they simply refused to consider them—and they never did explain why.

When the State Public Works Board met last week to make the final determination, there was no doubt about what would happen. The department made its recommendation of two sites, then picked its preference of the two—Cotati—and there the college was put.

We're sorry that the final meeting had such cut-and-dried overtones. We're happy that we are to have a North Bay State College. We fought for its establishment.

We really aren't sore losers—unhappy just because the Novato site was not selected. But picking a location well up into the most distant county when it is supposed to serve four counties is difficult for us to understand.

There were such discrepancies in the reasoning. Students in northern Contra Costa County were not considered when discussing the proposed Vallejo site, one reason was because they would have to pay a bridge toll to get to school. But in considering the student population at the Novato site, students below San Rafael were considered to be going to San Francisco State even though they had to pay a bridge toll to get there. Disregarded was testimony at the hearing that there would be no place for them at San Francisco State anyway.

Well, the decision is made and the new college town is Cotati. We will watch with interest how avidly the department now pursues the construction of the college. There is nothing in next year's proposed budget for a single building, not even a temporary one.

STAYING AWAKE RECORD

Just after the 23-year-old newscaster had telephoned the disk jockey in New York who held the previous record of 201 hours, he collapsed. The New Yorker's tips proved to be of little practical value to the man in Honolulu. He had reached the end of his endurance and slumped into a deep sleep.

Few people try to prove that they can stay awake longer than anyone else. But still such an example is a reminder of the value of setting a big and worthwhile goal for one's self.

A great and challenging vision will spark a hidden strength and perseverence that you little dreamed you possessed.

God has endowed you with a bit of His divine power to use for His glory and the benefit of mankind. With it, you will endure the difficulties and obstacles that usually slow down and even stop those with small objectives and short-range vision.

"Do you not know that those who run in a race, all indeed run, but one receives the prize? So run as to obtain it.
(1 Corinthians 9:24)

Keep my sights so fixed on eternity, O Lord, that I will suffer anything rather than miss it.

If You Think You Have Problems, Read These (Solutions Given, Too)

Pavement Plato:

"My girl is pretty, red-haired, has a fine job, stands to inherit money, and can cook better than a French chef.

"We get along fine, but she says that when I kiss her she gets goose pimples. What should I do? — Perplexed.

Dear Perplexed: Marry her, son. What else could you be looking for in life?

Dear Plato:

"I have an etiquette problem. Is it okay to write love letters with a typewriter on business stationery, or should they be written in pen and ink on personal stationery?" —Proper Soul.

Dear Proper Soul:

Neither. The only safe way to write love letters is by hand, in sand, and while the tide is coming in.

Dear Plato:

"I am 18 years old. I just graduated from a pergresive hi skool, where my favrut subject was English compuhsishon.

"My gole in life is to bekum a beatnik writer. Have you enny good advise for me?"—Ambishus.

Dear Ambishus:

Yes. The first thing for you to do is to throw away your spelling book. It has already begun to cramp your style.

Dear Plato:

"I am concerned about my son. He is 17 years old, hates rock 'n' roll music, never has smoked marijuana or carried a switchblade knife. He does not date steady, never wants to borrow the family car, and spends all his spare time working to earn enough money to pay his own way through college.

"What should I do with this paragon of a boy?" — Uneasy.

Dear Uneasy:

This kid sounds dangerous. Obviously, must be hiding something. Beat him until he confesses.

DEAR PLATO:

"My wife and I don't get along very well. Lately, every time I go on a trip by air, she has insisted that I take out $125,000 in flight insurance. What do you think of this?"—Just Wondering.

DEAR JUST WONDERING:

I see nothing wrong in this, as long as your wife doesn't insist on packing your suitcase herself.

Forand Bill Is Life Or Death

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On March 4 in the Independent-Journal, Page 3, Column 4 you carried an article "Medics Urged to Fight Social Security Bills." Reading it, I noticed that the doctors of Marin County had a meeting at the Meadow Club and decided to fight the Forand Bill. However, they wished to be certain that congressmen and senators shouldn't know that this comes from doctor's organizations. They advise their wives to write and their friends to write to Washington against the bill, but not to use doctor's letterheads — just their own names as taxpayers.

Dear Editor, here's where I protest and I want to show the medical profession of Marin County that sneaky ways of writing doesn't always pay. This bill is a matter of life and death for senior citizens and it would be no more than right on your part to show the other side of the picture. I have noticed several very reputable names among the officers of the medical profession in Marin County and I am shocked that they agree to advise not to use the doctors' letterhead in order to mislead the congressmen or senators in Washington.

This is a deplorable condition indeed when professional men and women refuse to identify themselves and still wish to inflict more undue hardship on Senior Citizens over 65.

I am 76 years of age, not college trained — however, quite willing to discuss this problem in any form just in the interest of trying to be of assistance to people of advanced age. Sincerely hope that this will touch the hearts of some doctors and they may be able to change the Marin Medical Profession thinking.

Messages Helpful On Saturdays

Independent-Journal:

For many months I have intended to write to express my appreciation for the drawings on the editorial page in Saturday evenings' editions.

In the space usually occupied by a cartoon, these messages are very helpful. At a time when I needed spiritual uplift, I found these admonitions of faith and reliance on God, a real boost to my courage.

So, to the artist or artists who draw these pictures and to those who are responsible for them being in your newspaper, a warm Thank You! May they be continued, as many others may feel as I do.

As a postscript, let me compliment you on the courage of the Finch trial. No blatant headlines or sensationalism, just the minimum coverage on an inside page. Thank you for that too.

Here's Formula For Stain Removal

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We would like to pass on an aid to rid bathtubs of the yellow stain caused by the iron content in the water as of late.

Dip a cloth in peroxide, then put some cream of tartar on it and sprinkle with scouring powder. Rub stain and let it remain for 20 minutes or so before washing off with clean water.

Democratic Senators Should Do More Than Criticize Defense Plans

WASHINGTON — Now that Sen. John F. Kennedy has well and sharply drawn the issue with the Eisenhower administration over what he deems its inadequate defense budget, what next?

Is this going to be just some more campaign oratory? Are we going to just listen to more words about the "missile gap?" Or is Kennedy prepared to fit action to his words in a way which will make defense-spending a commanding issue in the election?

If this is to be the case — as it ought to be — then we will need something more than an exchange of arguments between Sen. Kennedy and the White House or a running debate between Sen. Stuart Symington and Vice President Richard Nixon.

IF THE DEMOCRATIC critics of the administration who contend that the U.S. is not using its resources adequately to meet Khrushchev's "we'll-bury-you" challenge, really believe their own arguments, then they ought to vote to do something about it — even if it involves higher taxes.

I think they do believe what they are saying and that is why Kennedy should be prepared to put the defense issue before the country in terms of legislative action.

HERE, IT SEEMS to me, is what is needed:

1—Since Kennedy and his three co-contenders for the Democratic Presidential nomination — Symington, Hubert Humphrey, and Lyndon Johnson — have all been critical of the administration's defense budget, it would help to draw the issue vividly if they would join in submitting to the Senate a specific proposal to enlarge the appropriation wherever they consider it inadequate.

2—They could properly obtain from the Defense Department a careful estimate of the additional funds needed for what they consider lacking — more missiles, equipping SAC to go on a partial 24-hour airborne alert, and expanding and modernizing the army.

3—If these additional sums come anywhere near to unbalancing the budget, they should introduce the necessary new taxes to provide the money.

4—They should bring both issues, the expanded defense budget and any needed taxation, to a vote at this session of Congress.

IF SENS. KENNEDY, Johnson, Symington, and Humphrey mean what they say (as I think they do) in condemning the administration defense budget, they ought to be willing to put their position to the test now in Congress.

If they don't come forward with legislation to do what they condemn the President for not doing in defense, they can hardly expect the country to listen to them.

10 YEARS AGO

Thomas C. Nelson received an interim appointment as Mill Valley city manager, after service as city attorney since 1941. Ted B. Adsit had quit for a job in Salinas. Nelson said he'd serve without pay until a new manager could be found.

The Mill Valley Communist Party put out a leaflet to Mill Valley and Alto residents, condemning the "grasping demand" of Greyhound Pacific bus lines and calling for an end to "world armaments race."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

There's a county in the Blue Hills Mountain district where the hillbillies outnumber the townies five to one.

Townies, however, control the voting machines and, by invoking their own "literacy test," disqualify every hillbilly who shows up at the polls. One hillbilly confounded them by answering questions about philosophy, world politics, etc.; so in desperation the registration clerk produced a Chinese newspaper and demanded, "Can you read that headline?" "I can," said the hillbilly. "You can?" echoed the clerk. "What does it say?"

"It says," nodded the hillbilly sadly, "that hillbillies still ain't going to get to vote this year!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

I Hope Things Stay OK In Novato Until I Can Get Back On The Beat

For the next couple of weeks my "beat" — Novato and Hamilton Air Force Base — is going to have to struggle along the best it can without me.

It is not by choice that I will be away from the northern end of the county, but because I am filling in at the home office for our ailing photographer, Bob Hax, until he is able to sit up and take nourishment.

And I hasten to add that the wilderness beyond Terra Linda will not be without on-the-spot Independent-Journal coverage while I am away. Dorothy Blackman, I-J staffer out of Back Bay Boston by way of New Jersey, will be watching over my beat until things around the office return to normal.

It is not about Hamilton Field I will worry. I am sure things there will be in fine shape for the short time I am gone, what with Uncle George Ceuleers minding the store.

And, after all, Curtis Low said just the other night at his goodby dinner given by the Chamber of Commerce that Hamilton would be around long after most of us had fled the scene. And since my early days in military school, I am inclined to go along with what generals say.

FOR INSTANCE, the special federal census-takers could make all kinds of mistakes in the head-count they are carrying on in the city this week and next. I would somehow feel a lot better if I could just look in on them once in a while and give them a hand with their arithmetic.

And there is Betty Seiler, who is moving her Scooter's Pet Shop from First street over to Grant avenue, just a few doors up the street from the I-J office. It wouldn't be any trouble at all for me to look in and see that the monkeys, cats, dogs, goldfish and guppies get settled comfortably in their new place.

And I do hope the city council remembers to needle Sacramento about that restudy of the freeway they have promised. After all, no one wants that big pile of dirt running through the middle of town, and you've got to keep after the boys up in the state capitol if you want to get anything done.

PERHAPS I AM worrying needlessly, but there are so many things I will miss about the place. Like the friendly telephone calls I get from all sorts of people giving me little bits of news.

For instance, just as I was leaving the office the other day, someone called to tell me that Mrs. James Sadler, who was Susan Bendt before she married, has just had a baby at Itaszuki Air Force Base in Japan where her husband is stationed.

It was a girl, the caller told me, and they named her Katheryn Linda. She was sure all of Betty's friends would like to know.

IT'S A SHAME I won't be around for the Volunteer Firemen's Assn's. annual St. Patrick's Day ball at the Community Club Saturday night. I suppose things will go along all right without me, but I feel I should be there to help Chief George Cavallero keep things running smoothly.

And all kinds of fireworks could go off in the upcoming race for the three vacant city council seats. What with Gene Trombley, Harvey Vicchio, Babe Silva and Ed Pozzi all fidgeting around the starting gate, it just seems to me I should be there when the campaign speeches begin to ring.

Gag On Expressing Ideas Could Spread

By JAMES DORAIS

In recent years there has appeared on the American political scene a phenomenon known as the institutional advertisement: advertising space purchased by business firms to promote not products or services but philosophical ideas and political and economic points of view conducive to a favorable business climate.

Opponents of these ideas and points of view have sought to inhibit the growth of institutional advertising through censorship. Thus, pressure from the national public power lobby has brought about Internal Revenue Service rulings denying private electric power companies the right to charge against taxable income the cost of advertisements discussing the competitive inequities of tax-subsidized, public power systems.

Highly critical of what he considers the "slanted versions" of issues discussed in advertisements sponsored by the Warner & Swasey Company, manufacturers of machine tools, Professor Shelton raises the question:

"Should limits be placed on corporate advertising designed to promote an economic political philosophy?"

BASIS FOR Professor Shelton's criticism is the failure to include the other side of the argument in Warner & Swasey ads presenting the case against high taxes, the welfare state, foreign aid, Communism and fellow travelling, etc.

An interesting analogy to this mounting criticism, by the anti-free enterprise minded, of the use by businessmen of paid advertising to present one-sided views to the public is the long-standing criticism by the free enterprise minded of the well-documented use of textbooks and lectures by college professors to present one sided views to college students.

A recent Wall Street Journal editorial refers to "school texts from grade school through college . . . riddled with aspersions on the American political and economic heritage . . . not a question of giving the historical facts as best they can be known and letting the chips fall where they may, but a question of deliberate angling."

A recent example in California of academic "slating" was the loaded question, now withdrawn, in an admissions test: "What are the dangers to a democracy of a national police organization, like the FBI, which operates secretly and is unresponsive to public criticism?"

IN ANY discussion of this war of ideas, and the ground rules that should apply, it may be proper to raise an ethical question:

Is self-discipline less incumbent upon those who attempt to influence minds through college instruction than on those who employ paid advertising?

JOSEPH J. FOSS
Easter Seal speaker

Ex-Governor Of S. Dakota To Be Speaker

Joseph J. Foss, two-term governor of South Dakota and World War II flying hero, will be principal speaker at the Marin County Easter Seal kick-off banquet at 7 p.m., March 26, at Bermuda Palms, San Rafael.

In making the announcement, Mrs. Thomas J. Garrett, Corte Madera, special events chairman, said Paul Leahy, vice president and manager of the California Pacific Title Co., and Chief Deputy District Attorney Roger Garety will be co-chairmen of the dinner. Garety, in addition, is chairman of the county drive to get funds for crippled children and adults.

SOCIETY PRESIDENT

Foss is president of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. He and his wife have been active for a number of years in seal drives. One of their children, Cheryl, 15, was born with cerebral palsy.

He won the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Flying Cross for bravery in action and for shooting down 26 enemy planes. He holds the rank of brigadier general in the Air National Guard.

Foss, new commissioner of the recently formed American Football League, was born in South Dakota. At the end of his combat service in World War II he toured the country under the auspices of the War Department, speaking at war production plants and at war bond rallies.

ON COMMITTEE

Others on the arrangements committee are Mrs. Roy Keith Dearth, Sausalito; Mrs. Frank Lowe, San Anselmo; Mrs. Donald McCaw, San Anselmo; Mrs. Blanche Redmond, San Rafael; Mrs. P. Roy Vallarino, San Anselmo; Mrs. Warren Wedekind, San Rafael; Irving Chapman, San Rafael; Jack Cimino, Fairfax; Rolfe Croker, San Rafael; W. P. Duhamel, San Anselmo; Jim Gilmartin, San Rafael, Frank Perachiotti, Novato; Elmer Worlund, San Anselmo, and Mrs. John McNamee, San Anselmo.

Tickets may be obtained at Northwestern Savings and Loan, Mill Valley and San Rafael; Chapman's Shoes, San Rafael; Perachotti Realty, Novato; office of Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., 1036 Sir Francis Drake boulevard, Kentfield; H. Kramer Shoes, Corte Madera Shopping Center.

Course In Driving Planned By State

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State of California plans to become a backseat driver for upwards of 15,000 state employees who regularly drive state-owned cars.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced plans for a defensive driver training program aimed at making better drivers of state employees and reducing the accident rate for California's fleet of 21,463 vehicles.

The governor said that accidents cost the state $2,500,000 a year. Every state employee who regularly uses a state car will be required to finish the course before July, 1961.

The course will include four hours on the road and four hours in a classroom.

Sanitary District Sets Basis For Belvedere Charge

The Tiburon Sanitary District board has decided that, if the City of Belvedere enters into a contractual agreement for its sewage treatment, it will pay on a basis of amount of effluent delivered to the plant.

Commission Secretary Robert A. Sterling said Belvedere will play its share of the necessary plant expansion and its portion of the existing plant. Sterling said the district accepted the report of the California State Health Department but "we will have to expand the plan in accordance with the report, but not to the extent that we would if Belvedere contracts with us."

Southern Marin Recreation Center representative Thomas M. Lacey appeared at the Monday meeting to inform the district that the center plans to petition for annexation soon. It is now using a septic tank, Sterling said.

Mosk Says School Libraries Can Buy Sectarian Books

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorney General Stanley Mosk has rulel that California public school authorities may purchase books considered sectarian, partisan and denominational in character for school libraries.

The attorney general ruled on a 1959 amendment to the Educational Code which repeated its ban against teaching sectarian or denominational doctrines in schools—but gave educators freedom to acquire such books.

Mosk cited the 1955 attorney general's opinion that the Bible may not be read in public schools for religious purposes, but may be used for reference, library, historical, or other non-religious purposes.

Jail Term Imposed In Assault Case

Wayne Staggs, 46-year-old San Rafael junk dealer who clubbed contractor David Beisel over the head and face last October, must spend 60 days in county jail and remain on probation for three years.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court sentenced Staggs for assault by force likely to produce great bodily harm. A jury found Staggs guilty of felony assault against Beisel, 40, who has his contractor's office and yard at 92 Louise street.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Harold F. Wolters presented evidence to show that Staggs used a piece of board to club Beisel on the back of his head and on his face during an argument. A fence divides Beisels yard from the junk yard where Staggs worked.

Math Lessons For The Very Young Should Be Kept On Informal Basis

"My oldest boy started learning arithmetic when he was in the third grade," a mother writes. "He did well.

"However, my youngest boy is starting his arithmetic in the first grade. He's having trouble. So are most of his classmates. Why does his school start addition and subtraction so soon? Isn't it a mistake?"

Certainly it is a mistake if the children aren't catching on. Since the sputniks went up, we've been pushing all varieties of mathematics back into earlier grades. Probably it is good. But it can be overdone.

A hundred years ago some men taught geometry to children of 4 and 5. The little ones memorized the theorems, they answered questions. But they were like parrots. They didn't understand what they were saying. It was meaningless, of course.

Schools start teaching number concepts in kindergarten. Arithmetic in the first grade usually is quite informal. The goal is to get the children to understand a few basic ideas, rather than to be real mathematicians.

Usually children having trouble with arithmetic are helped if they can work with objects instead of figures, as they do their problems. Get your boy some sticks, or little pieces of tile. Have him actually add two pieces to two pieces, and count the sum.

Go to school and listen to the teacher's lessons. Ask her for advice. Be sure you use the same methods in teaching your boy that she uses. Don't confuse him with conflicting ideas.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "We're arguing about my son's boxing. He is on the YMCA team. Didn't you say boxing was a dangerous sport?"

(A) Yes, I did. Some years ago a committee of doctors and educators recommended that boxing be dropped as a school sport, because of the many brain injuries which came from it. The brain is not built to withstand the jolts which boxers may get. Brain tissue, one destroyed, never is replaced.

Death Penalty Still Widely Used, But Inroads Are Made

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

But a United Press International survey indicated today the trend is away from the principle of taking a man's life to serve the cause of justice.

Worldwide attention was focused on the issue of capital punishment because Caryl Chessman has for 11½ years put off his date with the gas chamber and now faces execution for the eighth time.

One of the loudest outcries for commutation of Chessman's sentence came from Scandinavia, where the death penalty has been abolished. The last victim of Sweden's imported-from-France guillotine was a man executed in 1921. Sweden then abolished the death penalty and Norway soon followed suit.

Denmark abandoned its official Old Testament principle of "an eye for an eye" in dealing with major crimes, too, but recently there have been attempts to re-install capital punishment for persons convicted of killing children in sex attacks.

Finland's last peace-time execution took place 140 years ago but in times of war the death penalty has been reinstituted for treason.

Treason, murder in cold blood, and rape have been the traditional capital offenses in most cultures since Babylonian times.

No criminal in Portugal has faced the death penalty since 1867, but in neighboring Spain most condemned men are garroted — choked to death by metal bands tightened about the neck. Some military executions are by firing squad, considered more dignified.

Garroting was introduced in Spain in 1828. Five men were executed this way last year. There are no signs it will be abandoned.

While treason, murder and rape are non-capital offenses in Holland and Austria, both nations re-instituted the death penalty for war criminals after World War II. Forty war criminals were shot in Holland and several were hanged in Austria.

Because of a series of particularly grisly murders in recent months, a small right-wing faction in the Austrian Parliament has been agitating for a general plebiscite on the question of reinstating capital punishment.

Before World War II Germany carried out the death penalty by beheading with an ax, but the 1949 post-war constitution forbids the death penalty. The postwar Italian constitution also forbids capital punishment, perhaps as a reflection of Roman Catholic opposition.

In France, major criminals are still led to the guillotine and in its Algerian departments rebel terrorists have been summarily shot.

Generally speaking, the new African nations formerly under French control — such as Morocco and Tunisia — continue to follow the French example of executing major criminals.

Other Arab countries join Morocco and Tunisia in retaining the death penalty, and it sometimes is imposed for crimes considered comparatively minor in the Christian world. The stern Arab viewpoint extends back to ancient times.

Curiously, newly emerging nations formed from parts of the British Commonwealth show a tendency to do away with capital punishment, but Great Britain herself still imposes it.

British capital punishment laws are both controversial and complex. The Capital Punishment Reform Act of 1957 was supposed to have ended 150 years of controversy over the death penalty, but it did not.

The law separated crimes of murder into two categories — those that could draw the death penalty, such as killing of a policeman or slayings committed while performing a theft, and some that could not.

Mass murder — the killing of more than one person at once, is considered non-capital, if committed without firearms or explosives. But if a man kills more than one person, and does it one at a time with a gun, he could get death.

The worldwide movement against capital punishment has made its most impressive strides in Latin America, where the death penalty is off the books in Brazil, Argentina, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Mexico, Panama, Peru, Uruguay and Venezuela.

The death penalty is still carried out by firing squad in Cuba and some states in Mexico, as well as the Dominican Republic and Haiti. Life imprisonment is the usual penalty for first degree murder in Chile but the death sentence is meted out in cases of great brutality or to halt a crime wave.

Other western hemisphere nations that retain the death penalty are Bolivia, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Paraguay and San Salvador. Puerto Rico has abolished it, as have some of the United States, but most of the United States and Canada still impose death for some crimes.

The Communist world has its own peculiar customs in regard to the death penalty. Communist China, for instance, allows trial by "peoples courts" for political "crimes," and minutes after a prisoner is "convicted" by the shouting mob, he is shot in the back of the head.

Technically, there is no death penalty in the Communist world for crimes similar to those committed in the "decadent" Bourgeois nations. This is because the Communists say the abolition of the Bougeois state brings about a "pure" Socialist morality.

Nevertheless, in the Soviet Union and its satellites, rapes, murders and thefts occur. While the criminal may be arrested, tried and executed — usually by hanging — for the crimes, the Communist doctrine is that he committed them because he was a "class enemy" or of "bourgeois background."

The Orient retains the death penalty. In Hong Kong, men are hanged for murder, treason arson and piracy. In Thailand, you can be mowed down by a sub-machine gun for the same acts and in time of martial law, the prime minister may pronounce the death penalty for the security of the nation without granting the accused a trial.

Inspector Hired For Civic Center

Authorization to hire Clement J. Feeney Jr. as inspector and clerk of works for Marin County's impending civic center construction was given to Marvin W. Brigham, director of public works, by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Starting pay is to be $700 monthly.

Brigham said the contractor contemplates commencement of civic center work tomorrow and wishes an inspector to be available at that time. The appointment had been suggested by Aaron Green of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, architects of the center, and Brigham's review of Feeney's qualifications had shown they were satisfactory.

Burglar Takes Cash, Sportcoat From Home

Ward Rayfield Johnson of 107 Bret Harte road said he was away from home between 1 and 3:45 p.m. He returned to find the kitchen window open. The cash was in eight $2 bills and seven $10 bills.

Civic Center Radio Tower Approved

Plans to erect a steel radio tower on the northeast end of the projected civic center administration building have been approved by the Federal Aviation Agency, according to a letter received by the Marin County Board of Supervisors from Aaron Green of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, architects for the center.

Green said that the Department of the Air Force has recommended, however, that the tower be "obstruction lighted."

INCOME TAX FACTS

Rules For Deducting Gifts To Charities

Your charitable contributions are deductible up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income provided that at least 10 per cent is to churches, educational institutions or tax exempt hospitals.

Peter J. Wikel

Contributions, to be deductible for 1959, must have been paid in 1959. It is not enough to have pledged to contribute at a later date. Payment must have been made in 1959.

Payments in money or property are equally deductible. If a contribution was made in property, the amount of the deduction is the fair market value of the property at the time the contribution was made.

All forms of property may be contributed—stocks and bonds, automobiles, furniture, fixtures, equipment, clothing, etc.

To be deductible your contributions must be to a religious, charitable, educational, scientific or literary organization; or an organization for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, except when such organization is operated for personal profit or to conduct propaganda or attempt to influence legislation. Also deductible are gifts to fraternal organizations if they are to be used for charitable or religious purposes, gifts to veterans organizations, gifts to governmental agencies for public purposes, etc.

Do not deduct political campaign contributions or contributions to any organizations that devote a good part of their activities to propaganda, lobbying or trying to influence legislation, even for a worthwhile purpose.

Christian Science Lecture Slated

How spiritual understanding of God restores health and harmony will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given in Sausalito next Tuesday by Gertrude E. Velguth of Flint, Michigan.

Open to the public without charge, the lecture will be sponsored by members of First Church of Christ, Scientist. Mrs. Velguth will speak in the Gate Playhouse, Bridgeway and Princess street, at 8 p.m. Her subject will be "Christian Science: Soul's Restorative Power Revealed."

Youths Arrested For Radio Thefts

Transister radios worth $30 to $50, being offered for sale among Novato High School students for $7, led to the arrest of two boys who admitted a series of thefts from Novato stores last December.

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine said two boys, aged 16 and 17, admitted the following thefts:

Two transister radios worth $75 from Pini Hardware, a $31 transistor radio from Woody's TV Store, and a $55 radio from Ace Radio and TV. All three thefts occurred about New Year's Eve.

$500 Movie Camera Stolen In Strawberry

MARIN SCOUT LUNCHES WITH THE GOVERNOR

I-J. Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gregg Hobbs, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gregory J. Hobbs of Terra Linda, had lunch with the governor yesterday.

Young Hobbs, an Eagle Scout from Troop 67, Terra Linda, was in Sacramento representing Scouts of Marin County at the annual "Scouting Report to the Governor."

The youth, a sophomore at Marin Catholic High School, was one of the delegates representing every Boy Scout council in the state making the golden anniversary report.

Brothers Ed and Will split up Greg's delivery route while he was in Sacramento.

MEETING OF THE NEW AND OLD

A meeting of two eras is symbolized by the horse and buggy and auto at the covered bridge over the Cooper River in Delaware Township, N. J. However, this bridge, reminiscent of the past, is different. It was just built.

Board Vetoes Request For County Car

The Marin County Board of Supervisors is all for seeing a woman improve her mind but it thinks she should pay most of the bills herself.

Mrs. Mary Summers, planning director, told the board in planning offices. Miss Mixter, who was hired last August as intermediate typist clerk but aspires to become a professional planner. Though college trained, she needs special knowledge which for seven months she has been acquiring through night courses, said her boss.

Now a chance has arisen for a $300 University of California-sponsored planning course in Hayward, given only to persons in planning offices. Miss Maxter will pay tuition and for 18 months do two hours' extra office work a week to make up for time in school, Mrs. Summers said.

But Mrs. Summers thought her employee should have use of a county car and repayment of bridge tolls.

The supervisors cannily decided to let Miss Mixter pay her own bridge tolls and to use her own car, on a basis of mileage repaid, so that a county car won't travel outside the county.

Meet Set Tonight On Annexation To Tiburon District

Property owners of the 500 acres from Richardson Bay to Racoon Straits will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Tiburon Sanitary District treatment plant on Tiburon boulevard to discuss annexation to the sanitary district.

Notices have been sent to the 74 property owners in the area, reported organizer Kurt Heath, to inform them of the "timeliness of annexation to the district now in order to participate in the more economical treatment plant expansion when the City of Belvedere contracts for sewer services."

The state Department of Public Health recommended that the district either expand the existing sewage treatment facilities or adopt the integrated treatment plant plan with Belvedere.

Tomales High Sophs Slate Dance At School

Also on the calendar this month is a Parent-Teacher Assn. smorgasbord dinner from 6 to 9 p.m., March 16. The dinner will be held in the cafeteria with proceeds going to the forthcoming senior dance.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
(Advertisement)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Dixie School District, Marin County, California, will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for the construction of the Dixie Intermediate School, 1960 Additions. (Vallecito School)

Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications as adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District now on file with Reid, Rockwell, Banwell & Tarics, 1019 Market street, San Francisco 3, California, where same may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids are opened.

Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of Reid, Rockwell, Banwell & Tarics, 1019 Market Street, San Francisco 3, California, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for 10% of the bid amount, made payable to the order of the Dixie School District. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 23rd day of March, 1960, at 4:00 P.M., and will be opened in public at or about 4:00 P.M., on the same day, at the District Office, 4775 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, California.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract or to furnish the necessary bonds after being requested to do so by the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 50% of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law thereto applicable, the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, which will be awarded the successful bidder.

The prevailing rates so determined are as follows:

Chief Warns About Dryer Fire Hazard

The number of calls for clothes dryer fires has been on the increase, he noted.

The chief said the dryer lint trap should be checked each time the machine is used. Accumulated lint on moving parts and around the motor should be cleaned, and parts oiled. The vent leading from the dryer should be vented to the outside of the building to allow heat to escape. An electrician should check to see if proper circuits are available for the dryer and other appliances, the chief said.

Hub Council Aspirants To Be On Radio

Candidates for the San Anselmo City Council will be members of the "Marin Sounding Board" panel at 9 a.m. tomorrow on radio station KTIM.

Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator, will have as guests Mayor Arthur W. Smith, Henry J. (Beck) Regalia, John M. Reichmuth and Robert F. Rouse.

The program will be rebroadcast from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

ANNE ADAMS
Symphony Guild soloist

Harpist To Be Soloist For Friday Concert

Anne Adams, Bay Area harpist, will be soloist with the Marin Symphony Guild Orchestra at its second concert of this season at 8:30 p.m. Friday at Marin Catholic High School.

Mrs. Adams, a member of the San Francisco Symphony and Opera Company orchestras, also is a member of the Mills College faculty and teaches privately.

In the past year she has been soloist at the Carmel Bach Festival and with the San Jose Symphony, as well as with San Francisco Pops Orchestra.

Daughter of pianist Phyllida Ashley Everingham, Mrs. Adams began her musical education with a piano at age 6 and the harp at 9. After studying in San Francisco and Los Angeles, she won a scholarship to the Juilliard School of Music in New York, where she became a pupil of French harpist Marcel Grandjany.

She performed widely on the east coast as soloist and in chamber music groups. She returned to California to join the San Francisco Symphony under Pierre Monteux.

In A Vacuum

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—The state education board met with Gov. Robert Stafford to discuss "a proposal for putting the state board more closely in touch with opinion around the state." The meeting was closed to the press and public.

Greatest flavor-upper since salt and pepper

2 are better than 1
Borden's is the only national brand that combines two fine Italian cheeses to make the greatest grated cheese ever: Parmesan (dry, sharp, aged fourteen months) and costly, full-bodied Romano. You'll like it better because two are better than one!
For mmmm-marvelous meatless meals
